The

EDITOR'S NOTE

Our purpose in this LONGHORN has been to construct a book that will be of some personal interest to every student on the campus. In doing this we have tried to place emphasis on the Senior Class, but the other classes are well represented. We have not included all of the traditions and various aspects of A. & M. campus life, but we have tried to do so in so far as it has been possible. Throughout the book scholastics have been used as the theme, and giving every department of the school equal representation has been one of our foremost aims. With the help of a most efficient and willing staff the job of putting out the 1939 LONGHORN has been a pleasure, for without them it would have been a difficult if not impossible task. To one man on my staff I owe a debt of gratitude for his never tiring assistance. This man is Harold F. Bockhorn, Sports Editor of the LONGHORN. Other Seniors who are due much praise for their work on this book are Paul W. Anderson, James F. Hollingsworth, Alfred G. Beckman, J. Wayne Stark, and O. D. Butler.

Certainly I have never received a greater honor than to have had the privilege of assembling this 1939 LONGHORN, and to those who have contributed so generously to its preparation I wish to express my thanks.

To an IDEAL

In years past, LONGHORNS have been dedicated to men, to traditions, and to many phases of Aggieland. However, to those who have attended A. & M., there is an intangible something far greater than any of these—that something which distinguishes an A. & M. man from the rest of the field.

Any attempt to define this IDEAL would be a waste of words; to the outsider it does not exist; but to the Aggie it is an ever present reality, and becomes a lasting part of him. This something which drives men on to greater and greater efforts in their chosen fields is apparent in the achievements of the alumni of A. & M. College. Many of the leaders of yesterday and today have come from the ranks of A. & M. men, and they will continue to do so in the future because they possess this IDEAL. May this book serve as a constant reminder of A. & M.'s contribution to society through these leaders.

TO THIS IDEAL, AS TYPIFIED IN THE ACCOMPLISHMENTS OF THE UNENDING ALUMNI, WE DEDICATE THIS, THE 1939 LONGHORN.

Academic Building

The old Ad building is a familiar sight to every student of A. & M. The building has been converted into classrooms, but its time-worn halls still show of its one-time splendor.

ENTRANCE TO THE ACADEMIC BUILDING

Petroleum Building

ENTRANCE TO THE PETROLEUM BUILDING

The architectural splendor, both interior and exterior, of this relatively new building adds much to the beauty of the campus. In keeping pace with every new development of the industry, A. & M. possesses a Petroleum Department complete in every respect.

Agriculture Building

The Ag building symbolizes farming of the future. Within its portals are taught agricultural planning and development and every other phase of scientific farming—the watchword of the future.

ENTRANCE TO THE AGRICULTURE BUILDING

Administration Building

ENTRANCE TO THE ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

The new Ad building greets the incoming visitor with a sight of lasting beauty. It is here that the Fish registers, and from here the Seniors obtain the right to get a diploma — the beginning and end of A. & M.

Veterinary Hospital

The Vet hospital is one of the best equipped in the country. It possesses a humanitarian aspect second only to its ability to train men for a life of useful contributions.

ENTRANCE TO THE VETERINARY HOSPITAL

Agricultural Engineering Building

ENTRANCE TO AGRICULTURAL ENGINEERING BUILDING

The Ag Engineering building is another new addition to the campus which greatly adds to its beauty. It is here that the two most important phases of the College meet, and Engineering skill is applied to Agricultural methods.

Animal Industries Building

The A. & I. building is a tribute to the everlasting work being carried on along these lines. Here men are trained to become leaders in every phase of the livestock industry, and new methods of development are ever being created.

ENTRANCE TO THE ANIMAL INDUSTRIES BUILDING

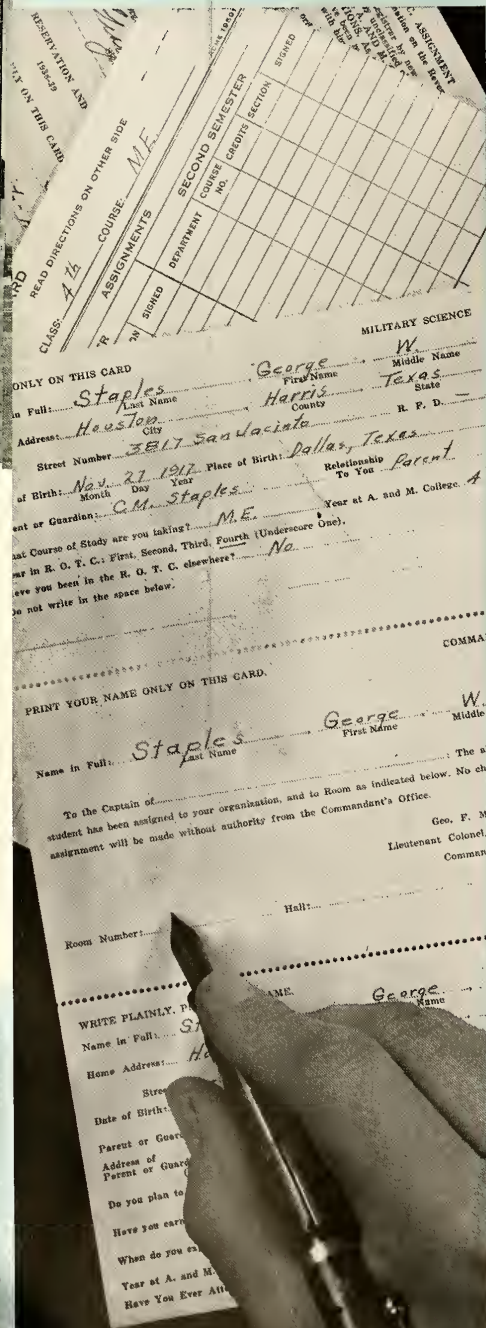

The Library

ENTRANCE TO THE LIBRARY

The Library is a place where students may relax from the dull monotony of regular class work. Countless volumes of fiction and technical literature are available to train students to go out into an intellectual world.

THE FRESHMAN CLASS that enrolled in 1938 was the largest first year class ever to enter A. & M. Each year there has been a steady increase in the number of students reporting for registration, and even a conservative estimate points to a continuance of these increases.

The people of Texas and of the United States are becoming education-minded, and through the efforts of those who are responsible for the development of A. & M., they are beginning to realize that A. & M. is one of the best institutions in the land for securing this education.

ADMINISTRATION

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

"To him who is motivated by a true spiritual urge, there is no stopping place short of perfection for which he is striving." Such a one will soon learn to discern between true and false values; between the philosophy of defeatism and the philosophy of achievement.

Today as never before the Nation needs men who have the capacity to think clearly and the courage to act positively; men who know and understand the objectives they seek to obtain, and the obligation they have to self and family, but who are also acutely conscious of the obligation they owe to society; men who through the exercise of logic and straight thinking, and adherence to high ideals, can chart a course of action or make a plan for their lives that will enable them to serve their own interests while at the same time they serve the interests of society; men who while enjoying the more abundant life for themselves, help to assure some measure of its blessings to their fellows.

For four years the Class of 1939 has been acquiring training largely at public expense. This training has given you the working tools that should enable you to succeed in life's endeavors; but in the end the degree of success you achieve will depend upon the skill and wisdom with which you use your talents.

Just as you have profited by your college experience; to the degree that you have put your best into your college work, so in life you will succeed in the measure that you put honest, intelligent and unselfish effort into life's tasks. Remember that success, like happiness, is dependent in a large degree upon self. Also that success in its fullest meaning is a two-way traffic. One can succeed in a narrow sense while trampling upon the rights of others, but such success will bring small satisfaction to a real man.

Make your plan for life inclusive instead of exclusive. Motivated by high spiritual conceptions, with a sane plan for living and a will and purpose to work, success will crown your efforts. Your achievements will bring to you a high degree of satisfaction and pleasure, and you will repay the public for the sacrifices it has voluntarily made in order that you might acquire a college education.

"Triumph and toil are twins; and aye
Joy suns the cloud of sorrow;
And 'tis the martyrdom today
Brings victory tomorrow."

J. O. Malton

President.

T. O. WALTON

THE VICE-PRESIDENT

DEAN F. C. BOLTON

During the past two years, both the position of Vice-President and that of Dean of the College have been the responsibilities of Dean F. C. Bolton. He has done much to aid the progress of A. & M., and in meeting the many problems that come before him, he has proved his ability to handle them successfully.

It is the duty of the Vice-President to see that the students' needs are fulfilled to the greatest possible extent. Since Dean Bolton has occupied this position, it can truthfully be said that the students have received greater benefits than in any other period of the College's development.

One of Dean Bolton's many duties is that of presiding at meetings of the Executive Committee. This Committee has had many trying situations to come before it, and each time its decision has been one which reflected much deliberation and understanding of the problem. Confronted with the expansion and rapid growth of the College, the Committee has, for the time being, provided facilities to take care of overcrowded dormitory and classroom conditions.

As the school goes forward, A. & M. will need leaders of Dean Bolton's type, and we owe a debt of gratitude to him for the many things accomplished under his guidance.

EXECUTIVE ASSISTANT

TO THE PRESIDENT

COLONEL IKE ASHBURN

Colonel Ashburn came to A. & M. in the fall of 1937 to act as Executive Assistant to the President. The purpose in bringing him here was to provide a man who knew, who understood and who could give personal consideration to the student's needs.

Serving in the capacity of Executive Assistant, he takes charge at the times when President Walton is unable to be present. He handles many of the executive duties that are too numerous for the President to see after, and he also serves as contact man for Dr. Walton.

Because of his sympathetic and understanding nature, he has helped many students in solving their problems. Colonel Ashburn has been of invaluable service to the College, and his presence here has done much to give the students a feeling of assurance regarding their welfare.

THE COMMANDANT

COLONEL G. F. MOORE

The task of directing the activities of more than five thousand cadets is one of the chief duties of the Commandant of the College. Colonel Moore acts as both Commandant and Professor of Military Science and Tactics, and he has accomplished much during his two years at A. & M.

This year Colonel Moore was promoted from Lieutenant-Colonel to Colonel. During his tenure of office not only has he done much to lessen friction and misunderstanding, but because of his sincerity and interest, the entire student body has learned to respect him.

The Commandant, by placing certain responsibilities and duties on the students, develops leadership in those members of the student body who later enter the Reserve Corps. Texas A. & M. furnishes more Reserve Officers than any other college in the country, and the War Department sends some of its best officers here to train the cadets.

This important phase of the administration demands someone with great ability, and Colonel Moore has proved himself well qualified.

DEAN E. J. KYLE

A. & M. College is one of the foremost agricultural schools in the nation today. Founded under the Land Grant Act, its original purpose was to further the cause of scientific agricultural methods. The degree to which this purpose has been carried out is evident in the steady growth and accomplishments of this school. In Dean Kyle, the College has one of the most outstanding authorities on matters pertaining to agriculture, and he is frequently consulted by some of the country's leading men concerning problems of great significance to the farming industry.

It is fitting that Texas, a leading agricultural state, has the largest agricultural school in the world. In the School of Agriculture, continuous research is carried on to increase productivity and develop new agricultural methods which materially aid the farmer. Each year several hundred students are graduated, fully aware of the needs of the state and prepared to meet these needs because of their superior training.

The services that this school is rendering can be attributed to the great work of Dean Kyle. In the twenty-eight years that he has served as Dean, he has done much to present his school and its accomplishments to the world.

DEAN GIBB GILCHRIST

A. & M. is rapidly becoming one of the largest engineering schools in the United States. The School of Engineering has advanced a great deal in the last several years, and its accomplishments have won for it national recognition.

Dean Gibb Gilchrist, formerly Head of the State Highway Department, has been Dean of the School for the past two years, and his presence has added greatly to its development. His desire is to create the best engineering school possible, and in his short stay here he has done much to achieve this goal.

Included in this School are the following departments: Architecture, Chemical Engineering, Civil Engineering, Electrical Engineering, Mechanical Engineering, Textile Engineering, and Petroleum Engineering.

Graduates of this School experience little difficulty in finding their way into the engineering profession, and Dean Gilchrist can be justly proud of his contribution to the growth of his School.

DEAN R. P. MARSTELLER

This school has for its object the systematic training of young men in all matters pertaining to diseases of domestic animals. It is one of the most progressive schools in the institution, growing rapidly in enrollment and scope of activity. The six departments embraced by the school include Veterinary Pathology, Veterinary Parasitology, Veterinary Medicine and Surgery, Veterinary Anatomy, Veterinary Hygiene, and Veterinary Physiology and Pharmacology. Upon completion of the prescribed courses of study the graduate is prepared to engage in commercial practice, to enter the Veterinary Corps of the United States Army, or to work in the State and Federal Bureaus of Animal Industry.

All buildings and equipment used by this school are modern and well arranged. The School of Veterinary Medicine uses Francis Hall, the Veterinary Hospital, and the Anatomy Building for classrooms, laboratories, and clinics.

Dean R. P. Marsteller, who has been head of the School of Veterinary Medicine for three years, deserves much credit for his contribution to the development of his School. When it is remembered that the value of domestic animals in Texas exceeds five hundred million dollars, it becomes apparent that the work done by graduates of this School is of great value to the State.

THE SCHOOL OF

ARTS AND SCIENCES

DEAN T. D. BROOKS

The courses offered in the School of Arts and Sciences are designed to meet the needs of students who are interested in other than technical studies, and who desire a broad, general education. The School of Arts and Sciences is under the direction of Dean T. D. Brooks, who in addition to these duties, is Dean of the Graduate School.

A. & M. College is noted principally for its Agriculture and Engineering Schools, but its School of Arts and Sciences is also due much credit. A variety of courses is offered in this school, all of which are essential to a thorough and complete education. The School of Arts and Sciences has played a vital part in the education of the students who have graduated from this institution and in preparing them for intelligent citizenship.

Under the advice and direction of Dean Brooks, the School of Arts and Sciences has grown both in enrollment and prestige, and much praise is due him.

THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

F. M. LAW
President

The rapid growth of A. & M. College in the past few years has brought about many problems concerning the welfare of the students. The responsibility for the solution of these problems lies in the hands of the group of men who form the Board of Directors for the College. These men are appointed by the Governor for six year terms. They have shown much interest in the school, and it is through their tireless efforts that such noteworthy progress has been achieved.

The members of the Board are: Dr. F. M. Law, Houston, President; Walter G. Lacy, Waco, Vice-President; G. R. White, Brady; H. C. Schuhmacher, Houston; R. W. Briggs, Pharr; Edwin J. Kiest, Dallas; Joseph Utay, Dallas; A. H. Demke, Stephenville; and H. L. Kokernot, Alpine. Mrs. Melle Williamson is acting secretary to The Board.

THE FISCAL DEPARTMENT

In this department all of the monetary transactions of the College are handled. These include a depository for the students, a division which handles student labor payrolls, a staff of accountants, and a cashier who receives and disburses money to the various departments of the College. The Fiscal Department is under the able supervision of Mr. W. H. Holzmann who has served in this capacity for several years. He and his competent assistants are due much praise for the capable manner in which this Office carries on its work.

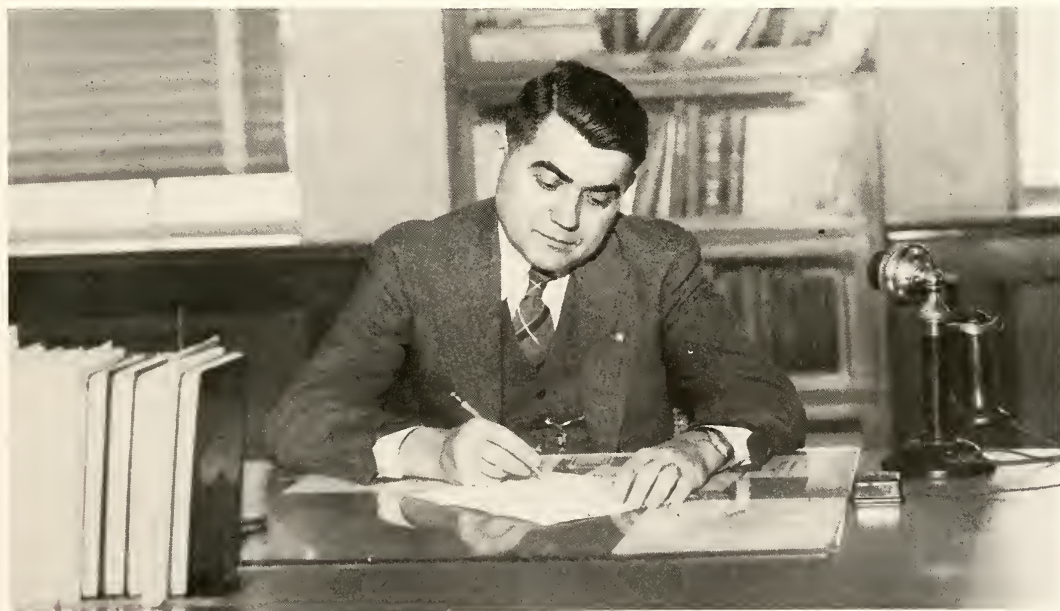

In addition to the above mentioned duties, this Department has a purchasing division which supplies the various branches of the College with their numerous needs, and it prepares all of the statements and bills connected with the payment of maintenance. The Fiscal Department is an important factor in the administrative structure of the institution, and the efficiency with which this work is carried on is a tribute to the entire staff.

THE REGISTRAR'S OFFICE

The Registrar's office is probably one of the best equipped in the South for its particular type of work. Under the direction of the Registrar, Mr. E. J. Howell, the most modern type of machines and files have been put into play in the last few years, placing this office on a par with those of much larger schools. Evidence of its efficiency can be readily offered by the speedy and orderly manner in which the Registration period is handled, registering over 5,500 students in two days, and having their class cards in their respective classes the following day. Mr. Howell is fortunate in having an excellent staff of assistants, with Mr. H. L. Heaton, Assistant Registrar, in charge. In addition to several other regular assistants, many students receive employment during the regular session, and also during the rush periods.

This office contains records of all present and past students at this institution, and is open for inspection to anyone interested, and more particularly to prospective employers. The office also serves as a medium for new students to familiarize themselves with the school, affording information as to cost, pre-requisite training, and many other incidentals. The Registrar's Office has an enormous task to fulfill, and it merits the commendation and cooperation of the student body for the many factors which materially aid them that it makes possible.

THE TEXAS AGRICULTURAL EXPERIMENT STATION

MR. A. B. CONNOR

One of the most important phases of agricultural work carried on by the College is done in this department. Research is constantly being carried on to develop scientific methods of farming, and also to solve the major problems confronting the agricultural industry.

Mr. A. B. Connor is in charge of the Experiment Station, and he has a large staff of assistants to aid in this work. This constructive group is constantly seeking methods of development to make farming more efficient, and also to make the task of the farmer an easier job. Farmers and ranchers throughout the state present their problems, and it can be said without fear of contradiction that this group has done more for these industries than any other single aid factor.

THE EXTENSION SERVICE

MR. H. H. WILLIAMSON

The Extension Service is another phase of college administration whose purpose is to instruct members of the agricultural industry of recent development in farming methods. Another duty of this organization is to seek new methods of making home life more desirable on the farm.

Mr. H. H. Williamson is in charge of this work, and has rendered much valuable service since being at A. & M. The Extension Service uses two methods of conveying their innovations to the public: the radio, and THE EXTENSION SERVICE FARM NEWS, which is a publication of their own. Through this medium practically the entire farm populace of the state can be reached.

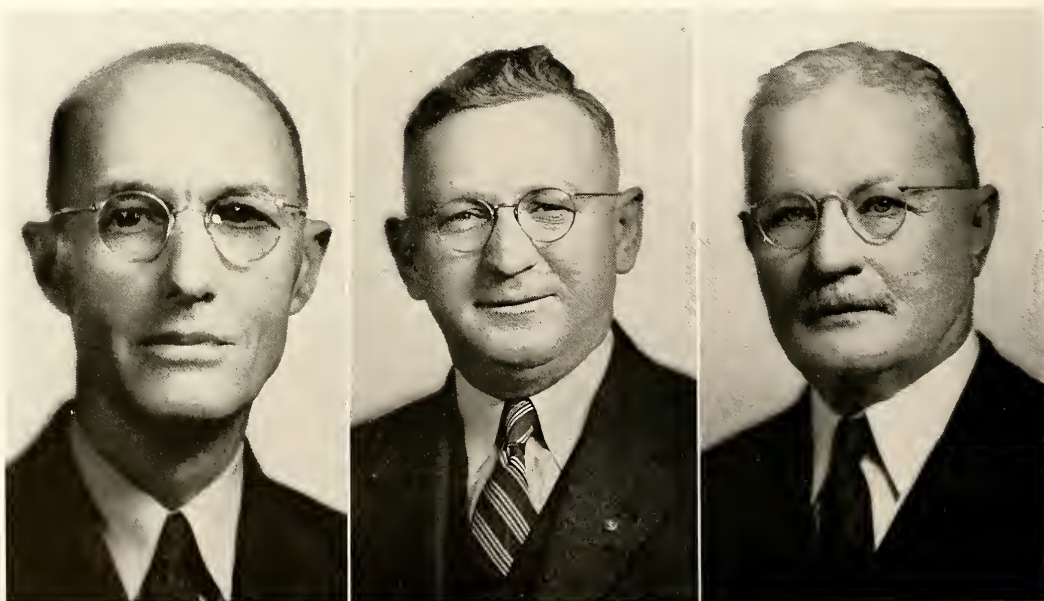

THE ENGINEERING EXPERIMENT STATION

DR. F. E. GIESECKE

The Texas Engineering Experiment Station was organized in 1914 for the purpose of assisting the industrial development of Texas, of investigating engineering and industrial problems, and of making available to engineers any information it could provide which would be useful to them.

Dr. F. E. Giesecke, who is director of the Station, is assisted by the Engineering Experiment Station Staff, selected from time to time from the teaching staff of the various departments of the College, according to the particular projects under investigation. The heads of these departments constitute the Advisory Council of the Experiment Station.

Since its establishment the Station has added greatly to the files of engineering research, and Dr. Giesecke and his staff have contributed much technical information of Value to Texas and the Southwest.

THE COLLEGE LIBRARY

DR. T. F. MAYO

Dr. T. F. Mayo, college librarian, has done much to bring the Cushing Memorial Library up to the standard required of a school of this size. The library may be pointed to with pride as being one of the few culture centers on the campus, and it does much in taking the student away from the more technical phases of his education.

The library has listed among its volumes practically all of the leading publications and periodicals pertaining to related topics of the various schools. Much valuable data can be obtained from its shelves, and all recent developments in research can be found.

In addition to its technical and fictional volumes, the library receives copies of practically all of the leading newspapers of the state in order that the students may maintain contact with their home-town news. Many of the popular constructive news-stand magazines may be found in the Reading Room. The library is an essential organ of a student's education if its usefulness is utilized to the best advantage.

THE COLLEGE HOSPITAL

DR. J. E. MARSH

The Hospital has one of the most important jobs connected with the College in protecting the health of more than 5,500 young men enrolled in A. & M. Dr. J. E. Marsh, head physician and surgeon, is ably assisted by his staff of ten nurses and seventeen student helpers.

The most modern equipment in operating room, laboratory, and the hospital as a whole, coupled with the work of the able staff makes possible the best of service.

Dr. Marsh and his staff are to be commended for their courteous and efficient service. They have done much to aid in the development of the college by reducing sickness and death, and their work represents a contribution of which we are justly proud.

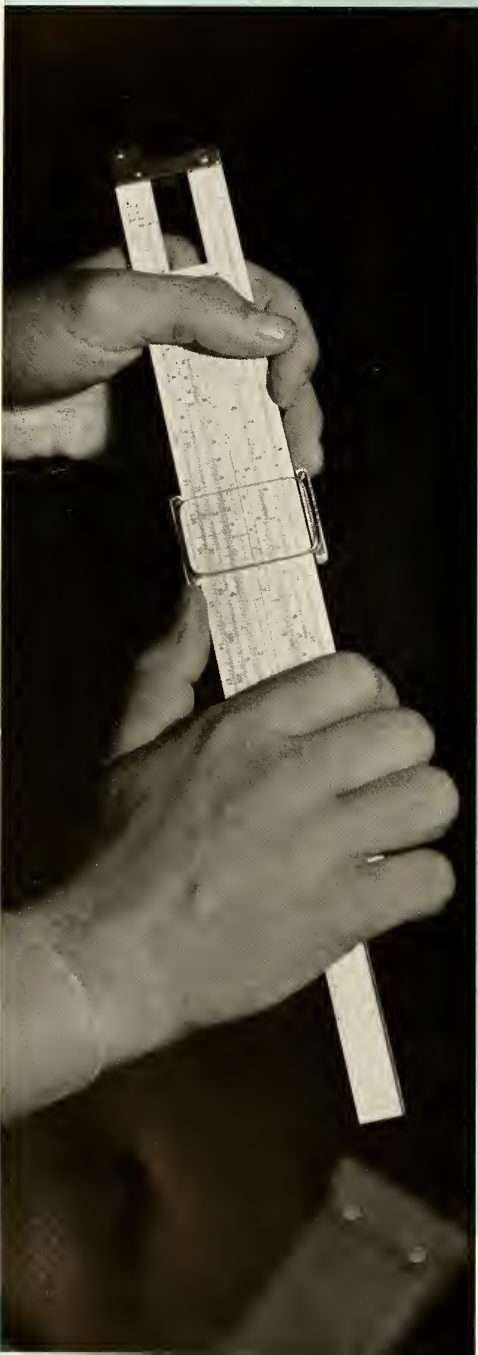

THE TEXAS FOREST SERVICE

MR. E. O. SIECKE

Mr. E. O. Siecke heads a department that is vital in maintaining the scenic beauty and industrial benefits of our state forests. The State Department of Forestry is under the jurisdiction of the directors of A. & M. College, and was created in 1915 to offset the rapid decline by destructive forest fires and other means of diminishing our timber resources.

The Texas Forest Service also covers instruction in nursery practice, field planting, and many other activities. The department has been particularly active in preventing and suppressing forest fires.

THERE is something about the possibilities of doing great things that attracts young men to the field of mechanical engineering. By the time a student is ready for college he must have his plans made regarding the course he is to take, and more than one young man's decision has been affected by the potentialities of mechanical engineering.

There is no school in America more qualified to give a student training in this work than A. & M. The College has one of the largest engineering schools in the United States, and emphasis is placed on mechanical engineering with the purpose of graduating competent engineers for the state and nation.

It's a good thing this picture
stopped where it did.

LAND

George and his problem child.

This Cavalry fish must be telling a tall tale.

Harris seems to have a monopoly on the women.

Pete and his best girl, Pinkie.

Visitors arrive for the annual Cavalry Ball.

"All right, we have a lot of guests here so let's sit down," says Major Irwin.

These Coast Artillery fish have an eye for beauty.

Reserve Officers charger class.

Are the boys sleeping late?

Henry Halstead and his "sea food mama" singer.

AGGIE

King Beal of the House of Hargrove and Queen Ruth of the House of Gordon.

Governor and Mrs. O'Daniel.

The Lords and Ladies of the Cotton Pageant Court.

Governor O'Daniel delivers his speech.

A couple of beauties from the Court.

King Beal Crowns Queen Ruth.

LAND

The members of the Royal Family swing out.

Everybody had a big time that week-end.

The beautiful Court of King and Queen Cotton.

Mick was really doing all right.

Governor O'Daniel crowns King Cotton.

Potts seems to love this sort of thing.

TREASURES of knowledges are to be found in the A. & M. College Library with its many thousands of books. No matter what course a student is taking, he will find sooner or later that there is a certain amount of necessary research to carry on which only the library can supply.

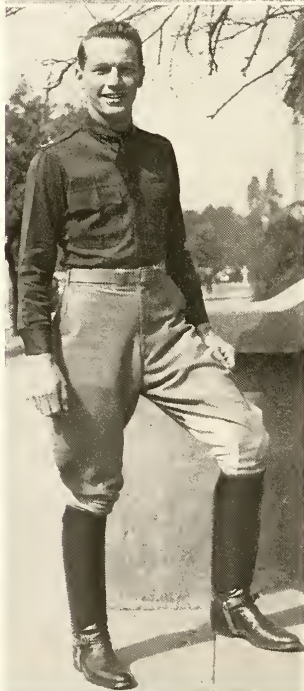

Every available method is used by the librarian and his staff to keep the library constantly up to date, and it is a possession of which we are justly proud.

THE EXACTNESS of chemistry and the complexity of its nature is emphasized by the thoroughness which is given the students in their training for it while at A. & M. College. Only the most modern equipment is used in the laboratories, and the best instructors that are available are used to teach the students.

All of the chemical engineering work is carried on in a beautiful and well-planned building which is constantly the scene of research and instruction.

ACTIVITIES

Student Publications Board

The Student Publications Board consists of F. C. Bolton, George B. Wilcox, Colonel Ike Ashburn, E. L. Angell, the Student Editors of the various publications, and the Student Representatives to the Board. Since its organization in 1931, publications on the A. & M. campus have advanced steadily, and today are reaching an all-time high. Considerable praise may be given this group of men for this advancement, because many times it has been through their tireless efforts that these forward strides have been made possible.

E. L. Angell, manager of Student Publications, has completed his third year with the Board, and since he has been here he has been instrumental in bringing about many changes to the students' benefit. He has worked hard, and it was he who had to direct the financial affairs during the lean years of the depression. Every increase in financial allotments has gone to making bigger and better Student Publications. In addition to the annual, the paper, and the magazines, Mr. Angell is in charge of publishing and distributing the Student Directory, the Y. M. C. A. handbooks, all football programs, and other programs and handbooks that may be developed during the school year.

It is the Board's job essentially to see that the financial status of publications is kept straight, but it is also their duty to see that they are carried out in an efficient and orderly manner at all times. The continued advancement of A. & M. publications lies in these men's hands, and every indication points to their doing an excellent job.

G. BYRON WINSTEAD

A. & M. News Service

A. & M. College, located far from a metropolitan center, lacks the influence of newspapers and civic organizations that it would receive if it were located in a city. In spite of this handicap, Aggie land can boast of some of the best publicity in the Southwest.

The success of this publicity has been brought about by the A. & M. News Service, under the able supervision of Colonel Ike Ashburn. Colonel Ashburn and his assistant, Mr. G. Byron Winstead, who is publicity chief of Aggie Athletic contests, have made good their promise of better publicity for the college.

This organization handles all the news items and articles on college activities. Its main function is to make known to the public events and points of interest that are significant to the college. In addition to this duty, the department often acts in the capacity of host in conducting new visitors around the campus. The A. & M. News Service has rendered an invaluable service to the College, and much praise is due Colonel and his assistants.

The Texas Aggie

Once an Aggie always an Aggie! After a student graduates from A. & M., he may still continue his relations with the College and keep alive his interest through the medium of the Texas Aggie. Published twenty times a year under the fine direction of E. E. McQuillen, himself of the Class of '20, the Texas Aggie is the official paper of the Association of Former Students.

The purpose of the publication is to maintain the contact between the ex-Aggies and the A. & M. College of today. The newspaper is wholly under the supervision of Mr. McQuillen, who writes all the copy, and arranges for the printing. Letters coming in from the former students are printed in the Texas Aggie for the benefit of old friends who wish to correspond with their classmates. The Texas Aggie receives in every way the finest support and cooperation from the Association of Former Students. Officers of the Alumni Association for the current year include: C. L. Babcock, '18, President; C. P. Dodson, '11, Vice-President; E. E. McQuillen, '20, Executive Secretary; and L. B. Locke, '18, Assistant Secretary.

E. E. McQUILLEN

S. C. HOYLE

The A. & M. Press

The A. & M. Press, under the careful supervision of Mr. S. C. Hoyle, ranks second to no institution in economy and service.

The Press, which employs twelve to eighteen students at part time labor, handles an enormous volume of work, including the Battalion, the Scientific Review, the Texas Aggie, the Extension Service Farm News, the Forestry News, and miscellaneous publications such as football programs and student directories. To meet the huge demand of these many publications, additional machinery is constantly being installed.

Much praise and credit is to be extended Mr. Hoyle and his efficient staff for their fine accomplishments.

CAMPUS

Senior Livestock Judging Team

In 1938 the Senior Livestock Judging Team traveled 5,000 miles to take the most extensive and educational trips any team has ever taken. In October the team competed in the annual contest held in connection with the American Royal Livestock Show in Kansas City, Missouri, and placed third in competition with 17 other teams. Later in November, at Chicago, during the International Livestock Exposition, the team competed in a field of 27 teams to place 17th, yet in actual figures the team was only 80 points behind the winning team. Experience and knowledge gained from all the trips and the many hours of practice cannot be measured in dollars and cents. On the trips, six of the leading agricultural colleges of the nation were visited, as well as many outstanding livestock breeding establishments.

In the spring of 1938, at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, held in Fort Worth, the team, as juniors, placed first in competition with 15 teams from all over the United States.

Words cannot express the appreciation the members of the team have for the untiring efforts of their coach, Mr. N. G. Schuessler. His coaching ability as well as his many other attributes make him a dominant figure in the team's success. This page would not be complete without expressing gratitude to the loyal, moral, and financial support of the Saddle and Sirloin Club.

Members of the team are:

L. D. Buntin, Plainview
E. S. Brown, Beeville
E. R. Campbell, Brady
M. J. Smith, Sonora
A. E. Prugel, Eden
H. M. Mills, Sterling City
N. G. Schuessler (Coach)

Poultry Judging Team

During a period of ten days, the Texas A. & M. Poultry Judging Team traveled 3,500 miles, sight-seeing, investigating, and inspecting leading poultry breeding farms, hatcheries, meat-packing plants, and state agricultural colleges in eleven states.

The team, coached by Professor E. D. Parnell, and composed of W. L. Braddy, Fort Worth; Louis Jurcak, Cameron; Ted Martin, College Station; and Alec Warren, Fort Worth, won fourth place in the Midwest Poultry Judging Contest held in Chicago last November. Louis Jurcak placed first in Production, and third in the entire contest.

The contest was made up of three separate divisions: Exhibition, Production, and Market Products. Each division was divided into five classes.

The team and Professor Parnell express their appreciation to the members of the Poultry and Egg Club, and the Poultry Department for their splendid cooperation in helping provide for the trips. Mr. Ford Munnerlyn is also due much credit for his assistance in preparing the teams.

National Dairy Judging Team

The Texas A. & M. Dairy Judging Team competed with twenty-six teams from the United States and one from Canada in the National Dairy Show. The contest held little good fortune for the members of the team, as they placed fifteenth. However, the value they received by entering the contest is not measured by rank alone, for a greater benefit was received through their application of reasoning ability and self-confidence. Although this meet was not entirely successful, the members of the team and Coach A. L. Darnell did their part to uphold the prestige of A. & M. by winning first place in the Southwestern Exposition at Fort Worth.

The team expresses its appreciation to all members of the Kream and Kow Klub and to the Dairy Department for their part in boosting the team and in raising funds to send the team on its trips.

Members of the team are:

S. E. Carpenter, Cumby, Texas

A. D. Hilburn, Dublin, Texas

N. H. Nance, Lometa, Texas

E. J. Botard, Alice, Texas

Dairy Products Judging Team

Dairy products judging has become an important activity for those students majoring in Dairy Manufacturing. Recognizing its value, Prof. C. N. Shepardson in 1938 initiated the plan of having the student judges compete against the other Southwest dairy products teams at the annual Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth. The second annual contest was held this year. The Aggies were represented by A. O. Faubus, R. A. Scott, and L. W. Crouch, who placed as a team in that order. C. H. Mangold served as alternate. Marked improvement over last year was shown by all of the four teams entered, which in order of placing were Texas Tech, Texas A. & M., New Mexico A. & M., and Louisiana State.

The dairy industry of Texas is largely responsible for the success of this annual affair because of its generous contribution of products and the various individual and team awards.

The International Crops Judging Team

The Crops Team from Texas A. & M. College entered two major crops contests in 1938. One of these contests was held in Kansas City, Missouri, and was sponsored by the Kansas City Board of Trade. The other contest was at Chicago, Illinois, being held in connection with the International Livestock, Hay, and Grain Exposition. Either contest was open to crops teams from all four-year agricultural colleges of the United States and Canada.

Both contests were divided into three major divisions: First, the commercial grading of grain, hay, and cotton according to Federal Standards; second, the identification of some 140 farm crop plants and seeds, the identification of thirty-five weed seeds commonly found in crops, and the identification of fifteen diseases that attack these crops and weeds. The third part of the contest was the judging of farm crop seed as to their quality, purity, and sound needs for planting seed.

At the Kansas City Contest, the team placed seventh. At Chicago the team was sixth, with Charles J. Ellison making a perfect score in the identification phase, and J. G. Jenson missing perfect by only two points.

The trip to the contests was made possible by donations from some of the grain, feed, and seed dealers of Texas, and by the Student Agronomy Society.

The team consists of the following members:

C. J. Ellison
J. G. Jenson
W. E. Lawson
H. F. Goodloe
R. C. Potts (Coach)

Senior Meats Judging Team

The Meats Judging Team entered its first year of competition in 1938, with the junior team placing first at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show held at Fort Worth, Texas, last March.

In October of 1938 the Senior Team competed against 12 other teams from various agricultural colleges at the American Royal Livestock Show and won the honor of placing third in the contest.

The team is very grateful for the support and financial aid given by the Department of Animal Husbandry and members of the Saddle and Sirloin Club.

The team consists of the following members:

Bob Balch, San Angelo, Texas

R. O. Dittmar, Doss, Texas

S. C. Stribbling, Rotan, Texas

B. F. Itschner, Elm Mott, Texas

C. E. Murphy (Coach)

The Debate Club

Mayo Thompson President

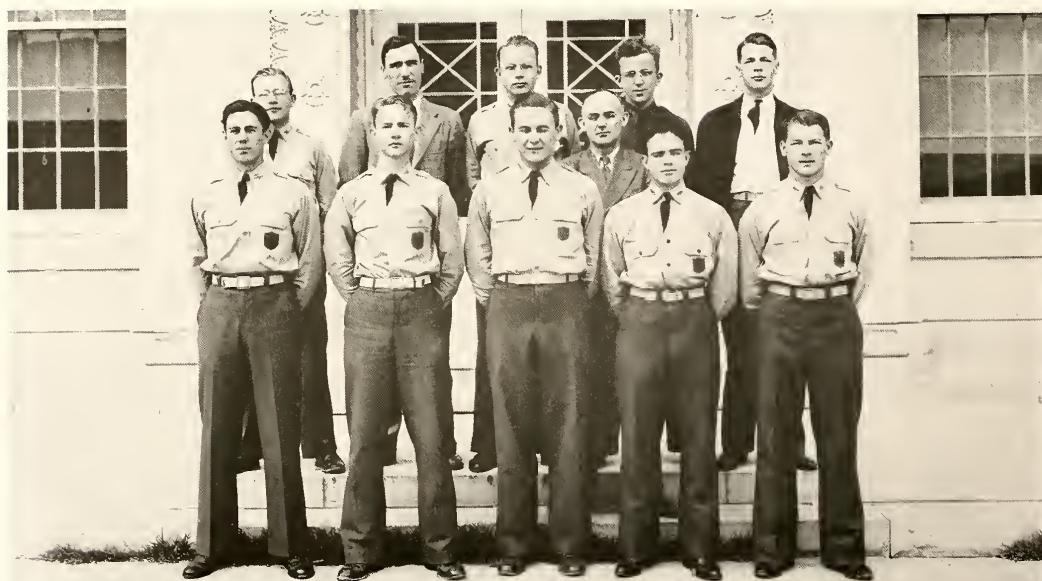

A. G. Warren Secretary

The Debate Club this year participated in tournaments at San Marcos State Teachers College, Baylor University, Sam Houston State Teachers College, and the University of Texas.

In addition, several home debates—including contests with the University of California at Los Angeles and Baylor—were held here. The team also made several trips to other colleges, including Texas Christian University, Southern Methodist University, and Trinity University.

The win-loss record for the year was about even.

The first local tournament in history was held here this year with five junior colleges competing with each other, and Freshman teams representing A. & M., Tyler Junior College, and John Tarleton Agricultural College took honors at the meet.

The Aggieland Orchestra

The Aggieland Orchestra is the official school dance orchestra, playing for practically all of the Corps Dances and many other social functions during the year. The orchestra this year is under the direction of Tommy Littlejohn, and is enjoying one of its most successful years. In addition to playing for dances at the school, each Thanksgiving and Christmas the orchestra goes on a tour, playing dances for A. & M. clubs all over the state.

There are many doubts as to the origin of this orchestra, but some of the old-timers take it back to the days when Jimmy Joy organized his orchestra on the campus. Since that time many excellent musicians have been developed by this organization, and several of its exes are playing in some of the leading dance bands in this country.

In the past, the orchestra has tended to favor heavy brass and more of the swing, but this year the reeds are being brought into effect and the sweeter music is the more popular trend. The band is more diversified than it has been in some time, giving a delightful mixture of all the styles to please the most critical of the dance-goers.

FELLOWSHIP

THE Y. M. C. A. Council

The Young Men's Christian Association touches on the everyday life of each cadet more than any other department of the College. It furnishes adequate religious programs and social activities for the boys throughout the year. Under the active leadership of Mr. Cashion, the "Y" has kept pace with our rapidly growing school. This year plans have been made to enlarge its facilities by adding to its building and establishing a branch convenient to the new dormitories.

Entertainment is provided for the boys by pictures, billiards, bowling, and other forms of recreation. Newspapers from all over the State bringing news from home may be found in its lobby. Prominent speakers on social problems and well guided freshman and sophomore discussion groups round out its active program.

The Y. M. C. A., student center of good fellowship, is ably guided by a council composed of Dean T. D. Brooks, M. L. Cashion, Dan Russell, Ernest Langford, and G. B. Wilcox.

The Y. M. C. A. Cabinet

OFFICERS

D. B. Thrift.....	President	J. F. Fouts.....	Secretary
R. C. Beck.....	Vice-President	J. R. West.....	Treasurer

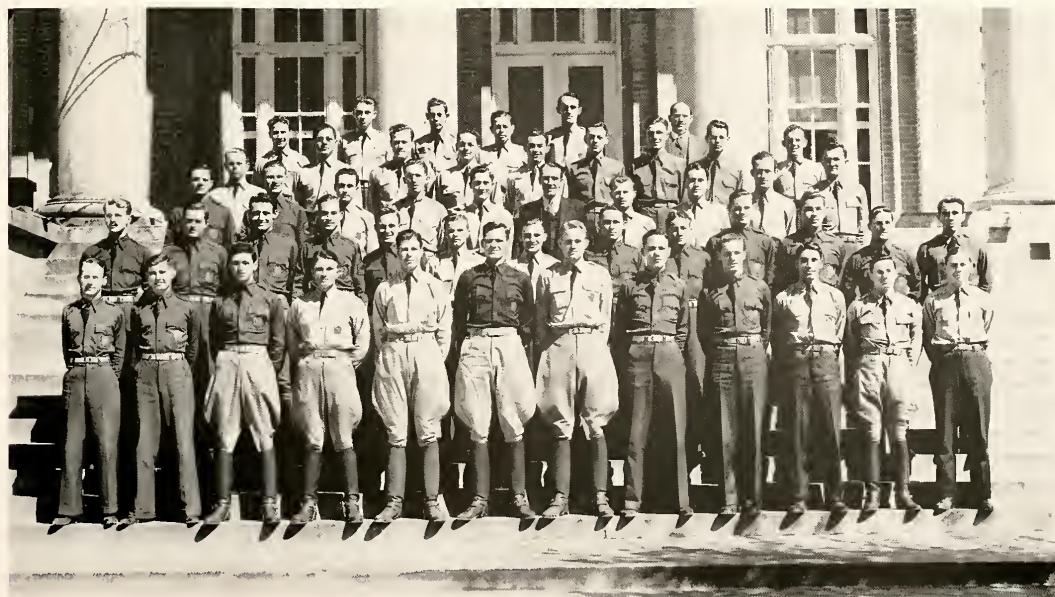

Outstanding because its aim is service, the Y. M. C. A. Cabinet is the student arm of the "Y." The Cabinet is particularly interested in the promotion of Christian ideals and activity and in aiding welfare work for all, regardless of race or religion.

The Cabinet is organized into committees that are responsible for such worthwhile activities as Freshman and Sophomore discussion and fellowship groups, Cosmopolitan Club meetings to aid the foreign and out of state students, a clearing house for church activities, and bringing prominent speakers and educational shows on the campus.

The Cabinet meets weekly in the "Y" Parlor. A well rounded program of socials and trips makes membership enjoyable as well as constructive.

The Newman Club

Monsignore J. B. Gleisner.....	Chaplain
Father Timothy J. Valenta.....	Assistant Chaplain
Ferdinand J. Reid.....	President
A. W. Hermann.....	Vice-President
Hubert E. Braunig, Jr.....	Secretary
Albert W. Clay, Jr.....	Treasurer

The Newman Club is a national organization on American Colleges and Universities' campuses to further religious discussion and social activities among the Catholic students in these institutions. This is a very active group, and they do much to bring the students of this church together in many activities.

Monsignore Gleisner is a veteran on the A. & M. campus, having directed affairs for this group for the past thirty-six years. He has seen this group grow from its infancy to its present size of well over three hundred members.

Mass is held at nine-thirty A. M. each Sunday and at five-forty-five A. M. on Holy Days of Obligation and First Fridays of each month.

St. Mary's Chapel built by the Knights of Columbus was remodeled by them into a beautiful chapel.

Religious discussions held weekly under the direction of Father Valenta prove very interesting and beneficial to the members. Dances sponsored alternately by the Newman Club and their good friends the Children of Mary of Bryan help to round out their Social Program.

THERE are only a few people today who realize the growing importance of the South's position regarding the textile industry. Each decade sees her displacing the New England States to a greater extent. Consequently, there are golden opportunities that lie ahead for those who are educated along this line. A. & M. has a textile engineering department thorough in every detail, and great strides are being made each year to increase its scope of work.

February 6th, 1939

Mr. Warren D. Barton, Editor
1839 Longhorn
College Station, Texas

My dear Mr. Barton:

I have chosen the prattiest girls for countless Colleges, but I assure you I never had a more difficult task than attempting to choose the prettiest girl for the Longhorn Beauty Section.

In fact, I couldn't -- in justice to the girls -- reduce it to eight, therefore, I have chosen nine Misses Helen Miller, Madelyn Campbell, Helen Kiker, Pat Kirwan, Eloise Weise, Barbara Corkern, Marguerite Welling, Ariel McKemie, Eleanor Moseley.

If I have been unjust to any of the other young ladies, I am sure my decision would have been fairer had I had the measurements of the girls. Photographs alone make the task quite difficult.

My kindest regards,

Sincerely,

Earl Carroll

TWO of the largest schools of the college are embraced by the course of agricultural engineering. Here, through the latest technological methods, the student is taught the various ways that engineering can be applied to the soil to make farming more efficient.

Each year many graduates from this department are placed in responsible positions because of this superior technical training that they have received.

THE CORPS

COMMANDANT AND P. M. S. & T.

COLONEL GEORGE F. MOORE

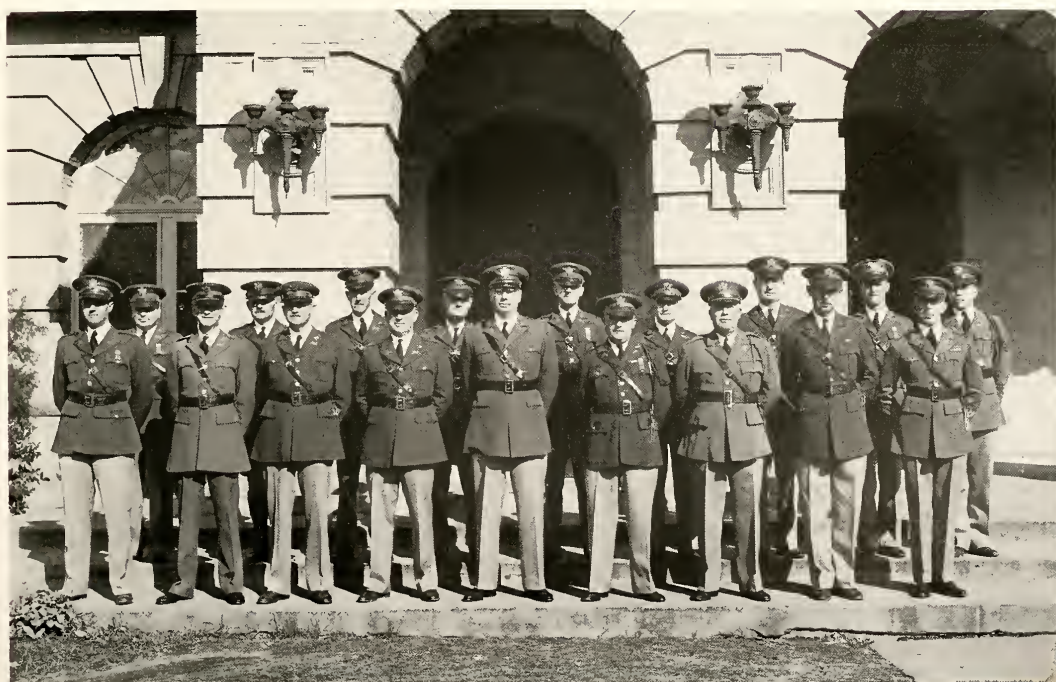

Colonel George F. Moore has served in the capacity of Professor of Military Science and Tactics and also as Commandant of the College for the past two years. During his administration, a better understanding than ever before has been reached between the students and this office. This may possibly be attributed to Colonel Moore's being an ex-student, himself, of this institution, and also his understanding of men, and his straight-forward tactics.

Every student entering this College, unless physically unfit, must spend at least two years in this department and those desiring continued military training may take the advanced military course. Colonel Moore heads this division of the school's training, and generally supervises all class-room study, and also the tactical drill exercises.

This year Colonel Moore has received a promotion, in that he was raised from the position of Lieutenant-Colonel to Colonel. This is a tribute to the man, and also to the school in having so able a man to direct the destinies of this important phase of A. & M. College.

TEXAS is one of the leading states in the raising of livestock, and one of her chief concerns is that of livestock management. The Animal Husbandry Department at A. & M. College is complete in every detail, and through its work students are taught the scientific methods of livestock breeding and feeding.

In meeting the demands of such a large industry, it is worthy to note that A. & M. men occupy some of the most important positions in this field.

SPORTS

O AGGIE ATHLETES

There is more to any game of sport than just winning. Anyone can be a cheerful winner, but it takes a real sportsman to bear the blow of a loss. The teams representing A. & M. College have always shown this true sportsmanship, and whether they win or lose, their spirit is always one of fair play. This characteristic is evident in every phase of Aggieland, and the school greatly appreciates the manner in which her athletes have displayed the IDEAL so near and dear to all Aggies.

Aggies, both past and present, have brought home many honors, but always they have been in keeping with the words of Edgar A. Guest:

"Still he clings to what is best; what is honest; what is clean;
And he quits the field a man—that's the sort of thing I mean."

SPORTS EDITOR.

ATHLETIC COUNCIL

The Athletic Council of A. & M., serving chiefly as an advisory group on all matters of athletic interest, is one that carries serious responsibilities. Such matters as the organization of the athletic program, the equipping of the teams, the employment of the coaching staff, and the determination of eligibility and awards are all duties of this organization. The chairman represents the college in all official functions of the Southwest Athletic Conference and the board in general does much to uphold the athletic prestige of A. & M., not only in producing winning teams, but also in policies of sportsmanship and administration.

DEAN KYLE

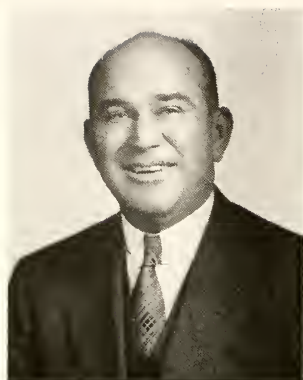

In order to represent all factors interested in athletics, and to secure harmony between them, the Athletic Council is composed of men from the faculty, the coaching staff, the Former Students Association, and the present athletes and student body. The members this year are Dean E. J. Kyle, the chairman, Mr. C. W. Crawford and Mr. E. J. Howell of the college faculty, all appointed by the president of the college; Head Coach Homer Norton; Mr. Joe A. Wessendorff and Mr. A. G. Pfaff, elected by the Former Students Association; Owens Rogers, senior athlete elected by the student body; and Mr. E. W. Hooker, who acts as secretary of the group and spends full time in administering the daily affairs in this capacity.

To these men we pay respects for what they have done and for what they will do for A. & M. in the future.

HOOKE, KYLE, PFAFF, CRAWFORD, HOWELL, NORTON

COACHING STAFF

COACH NORTON

Although Coach Horner Norton has not produced a championship football team at A. & M. during his five years as head coach, his teams have always carried with them the fight, precision, harmony, and a desire to win that makes the Aggies feared by all opposing clubs. He came to A. & M. after a successful period at Centenary, and since he has been the head mentor at Aggieland, the players and teams of the school have received much national recognition. He has certainly shown that he is a man in all respects and a true lover of his work.

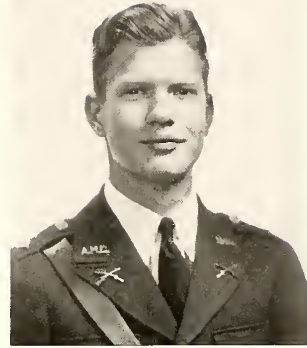

Aiding Coach Norton in his efforts is one of the most able assemblages of coaches to be found. Bill James, line coach, never fails to place a strong forward wall on the field and he is tops in his specialty. Hub McQuillen, basketball mentor, has gained the reputation of always producing a fine team from limited material. Dough Rollins, athletic business manager and track coach, carries the hopes of all Aggies because of his congenial nature and ability. Marty Karow, finishing his second year here, coaches varsity baseball and has strongly proved his worth. Frank Anderson is the cross country coach. Lil Dimmit, the well-liked trainer, performs valuable services in that line and coaches various freshmen sports. Others working with the freshmen are Virgil Jones and Charlie DeWare. Manning Smith ably assists in coaching the backfield and is another capable coach. "Penny" Penberthy, known and admired by all of us, is the Intramural Director and his worth is evident in his accomplishments. Sergeant Carroll acts as the equipment manager.

Standing: Norton, Rollins, Smith, Karow, James, McQuillen
Kneeling: Dimmit, Jones, DeWare

YELL STAFF

Keeping the famous "twelfth man" of the Aggies at a level established by old traditions of the school was indeed a huge task, but the quartet of "Hub" Aston, Charlie Trail, Bert Burns, and "Bodie" Pierce performed their duties as yell leaders in a highly satisfactory manner. As a result, the largest cadet corps in the history of the school put on exhibitions that showed just what a real school spirit should be like. Under the leadership of these four men, the freshmen soon acquired the old Aggie spirit and the upperclassmen were gotten back into trim for the year ahead.

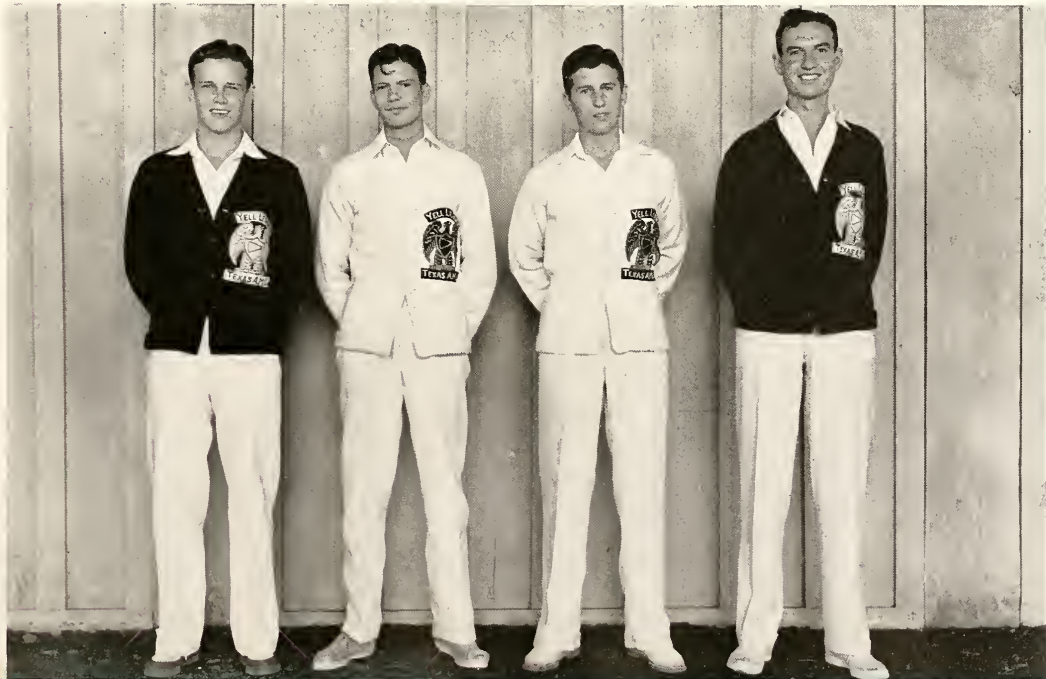

"HUB" ASTON

The chief this year was "Hub" Aston. It took only a short time for him to gain the confidence and cooperation of the entire student body and during the entire year his leadership and hard work was reflected in the manner in which the corps backed the teams. He well deserves a place with the best of the Aggie yell leaders.

Charlie Trail served as senior assistant. His work also merits praise and he capably filled a vital place on the staff. Bert Burns and "Bodie" Pierce, the junior assistants, definitely proved that no mistake was made when they were selected to aid in the work of the yell staff.

The regime of these men has been one of harmony and close support. They deserve the praise of every student in A. & M.

FOOTBALL

FOOTBALL SQUAD

COACH NORTON

Blessed with large amounts of material, the A. & M. football team this year presented a well-balanced machine in all departments. With this wide array of men from which to choose, the coaches could keep a team on the gridiron at all times that showed power as well as deception in the backfield and strategy as well as efficiency in the line. Although the Aggies haven't captured the coveted Southwest Conference pennant since 1927, they have always been included with the best football teams of this section, and after each game the opposition well knows that they have faced a club filled with spirit, love of the game, and a strong desire to win for Texas A. & M., the school that they so proudly represent. Credit also should be given to the men that so ably tutor the boys in their athletic efforts. The coaching staff at A. & M. leaves little to be desired in the way of efficient, ambitious, and sportsmanlike leaders. To these men and to the courageous group that comprises our football team and squad, we pay our respect and appreciation.

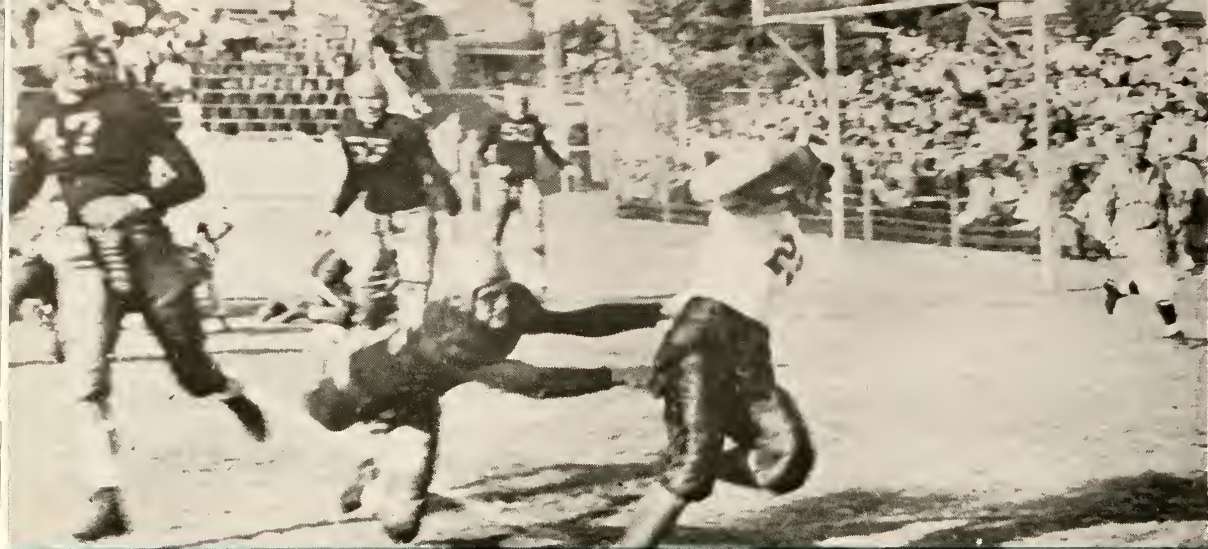

DICK TODD

The one thing that speaks most impressively and reflects most accurately Dick Todd's choice as an All-Southwest back is his collegiate record. Dick played in 30 games, for 1276½ minutes, and scored 116 points. He carried the ball 330 times, gained 1747 yards, lost 191 for an average of 4.72. Dick returned 91 punts for 1147 yards, average return of 12.61 yards. Sixteen kickoffs were taken for returns of 488 yards, an average of 30.50 per return. Couple with this unusual record a swell, likeable, and cheerful fellow and you have a picture of Dick Todd, a true Aggie and the greatest ball-carrying star in the Southwest.

JOE BOYD

After two years of conference competition, Joe Boyd has been named an All-Southwest tackle. He was an easy choice for the mythical eleven at this position because of his sterling play in the Aggie line. Blocking and tackling with vicious effectiveness, and cleverly diagnosing opposing plays, Joe was never ready to quit until the final gun. These abilities, along with the characteristics held high by all Aggies, cause us to salute Joe Boyd, the next strong Aggie candidate for All-American honors.

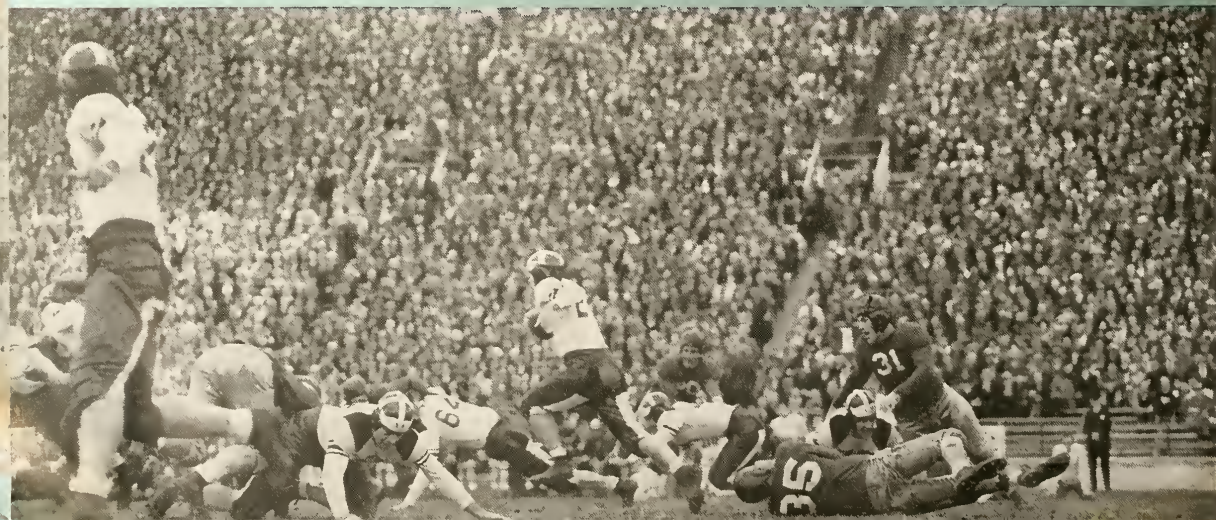

The first touchdown against Tulsa U.

AGGIES SHINE IN PRE-CONFERENCE GAMES

The 1938 football team opened the season with a 52-0 landslide over Texas A. & I. Aggie scoring was touched off in the first quarter when Todd swivel-hipped his way to a touchdown standing up. He received excellent blocking from a standout running mate in Thomason, a sophomore halfback. Other Aggies featuring in the scoring were Britt, Duncan, Rogers, Pugh, and Dittman. Coming out of the A. & I. rampage in good condition, the A. & M. club continued its winning ways by downing Tulsa University as a climaxing feature of the annual Texas Rose Festival. End runs by Todd and Rogers and a series of passes swept up the field in an eighty-yard parade early in the first quarter. On the last down, Todd circled right end for the touchdown and added the extra point. Other counters were made on a fifteen-yard pass from Price to Conatser in the third period and a plunge by Todd after a series of passes from Price to Schroeder and Britt placed the ball on the two-yard line. Journeying out to California for their next game, the Aggies were turned back 7-0 by the Santa Clara Broncos in a hard-fought intersectional struggle. The Broncos turned in a splendid defensive exhibition and then made the most of their one real scoring chance—a nice run back of a punt. The A. & M. club more than matched the Californians' play in the first half and looked good in all departments. Todd was again the most elusive man on the field and Boyd, Dawson, and Duncan showed to advantage while the remainder of the club came through with a very creditable game.

Todd, with excellent blocking, runs wild on the Pacific Coast

Captain Slick Rogers, senior quarterback, called the plays in a stellar manner. He played excellent ball for three years, blocking with precision, and piling up much yardage when carrying the ball.

A lion's share of the ball carrying duties were thrust on the shoulders of Dick Todd, and he was a constant threat—the greatest ball carrying star in the Southwest, and of All-American calibre.

"Jeff" Jeffrey played enough ball this year to mark him as a valuable asset for the years ahead. He performs in the backfield, and can hold his own both offensively, and defensively.

A senior letterman and a swell back, "Pelly" Dittman could be depended upon when in the game. He could scat through a broken field, and was a power on line drives.

"Jo-Jo" White lost lots of playing time because of an operation, but his work at end presented vicious rushing and constant pass snatching. He has his senior year still before him.

"Wop" Wofford is another of the boys that have the ability to stick it out. He failed to earn a grid letter, but put in many hours of hard work as a squadman.

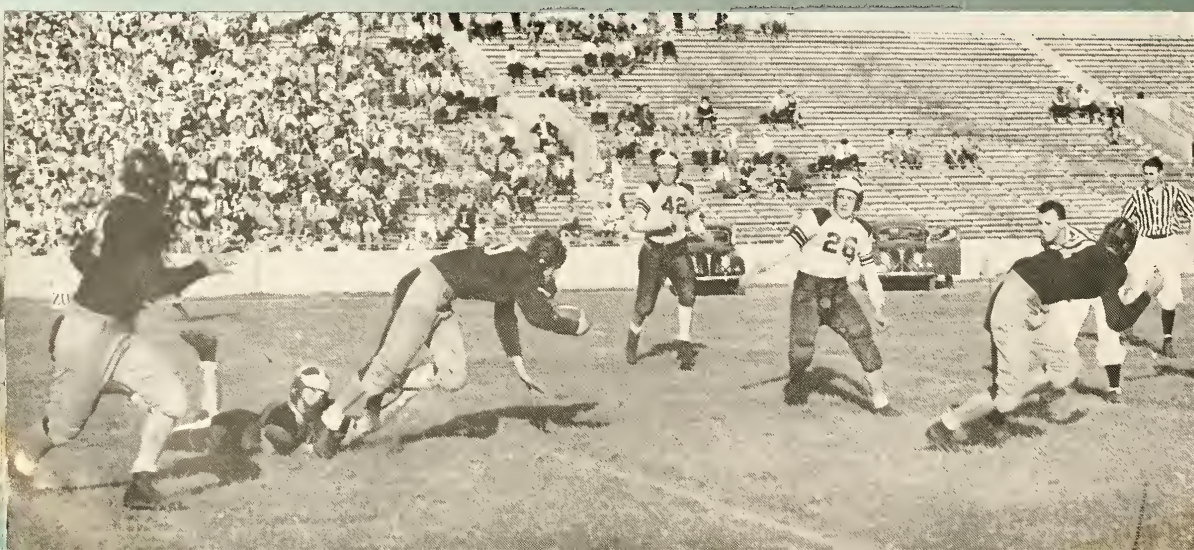

Todd on his way against the Horned Frogs

AGGIES DOWNED BY MIGHTY T.C.U.

Operating behind an elephantine line that clicked with vicious effectiveness, little Davey O'Brien directed the T.C.U. Frogs to a 34-6 win over the Aggies on Kyle Field before thirty thousand fans. Scoring was begun when O'Brien passed for a touchdown to Hall. The pass was good for ten and Hall fought his way through for five more yards and a score. O'Brien missed the goal. Late in the second quarter, the Frogs started another scoring drive. Starting on the Aggie forty-two yard stripe, O'Brien shot a flat zone pass to Hall who carried for twenty-two yards and then lateraled to Shook who scampered twenty yards. This time O'Brien converted, making the score 13-0 in favor of the Frogs at the half. Starting a powerful drive that combined spinners, power thrusts, and end sweeps, the Aggies marched forty yards for a pointer in the third period. O'Brien fumbled a punt and Steffens recovered for A. & M. on the Frog forty. Todd, showing a lot of drive, picked up ten yards. On a spread Todd passed to Thomason for five yards and the Frog twenty-five. Off a spread, Todd circled left end for a first down on T.C.U.'s fifteen. On a reverse, Price went inside tackle for five. A penalty for offside moved A. & M. back to the twenty. Price gained six and on the next play, Rogers faked handing the ball to a mate who went into the middle of the line. The play completely fooled the Frogs and Rogers tore around right end for the touchdown without a finger being laid on him. T.C.U. made the remainder of their scores in the final quarter and the game ended 34-6. Todd, Rogers, and Price played their usual steady game in the Aggie backfield and the entire A. & M. line matched the Frogs forward wall with sterling play.

Tommy Vaughn grabs an ankle in the T.C.U. game

Tommy Vaughn, aggressive sophomore, cinched his varsity letter with remarkable play at center this year. He carried worlds of fight and was good at diagnosing and stopping opposing plays.

"Butch" Herman is another who is due for much playing time. He proved a consistent ground-gainer for the fish squad and with a year of varsity experience behind him is ready for real service.

Bud Force, sophomore back, is one of the boys who is being developed for a 1939 role. He is a hard worker and shows good prospects, being shifty and able to drive through the line.

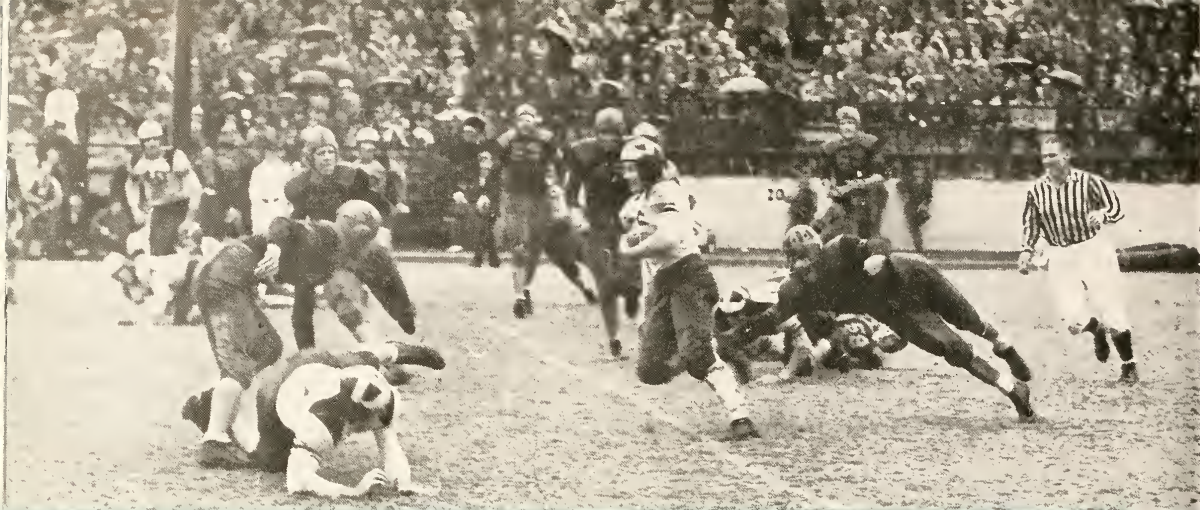

After lettering at fullback, "Rock" Audish was converted to a guard. He is built for much usage and has played a fine brand of ball. He has a year to go and will be a sixty minute man.

Leon Rahn is a sophomore and a guard. He came to A. & M. from a junior college and is sure to come into his own before he finishes here. He has determination and the weight to carry him through.

James Thomason served mainly and capably as the blocking back of the team. He could mow down the opposition for the ball carrier and when called upon could carry the oval with lots of drive.

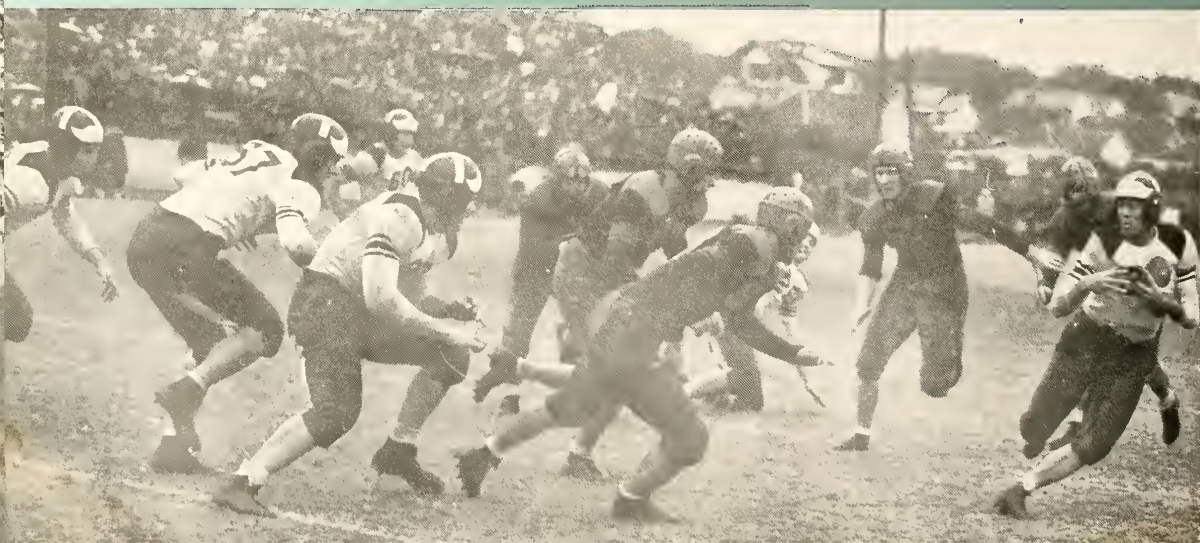

Rogers finds a hole for a first down

BEARS AND AGGIES BATTLE TO 6-6 TIE

A smooth functioning Aggie eleven did everything but literally bury the Baylor Bears in their conference clash at Waco, but only received a 6 to 6 tie for their brilliant play. The entire game was played in a slow rain that kept both clubs from filling the ozone with with passes and even toward the end of the game the field became muddy enough to slow up the runners of both elevens. A. & M., led by the great Dick Todd and "Boomer" John Kimbrough, drove their way down to the Bear goal line only to be thrown back by the desperate Bruins. Todd played his usual All-American game and completely baffled the Bears with a show of running that will long be remembered in Waco. Kimbrough took up where Todd left off to tear that "good ole Baylor line" to shreds. Rogers turned in some fancy stepping and called one of the greatest games of his career. The entire line gave their runners splendid blocking and held the Baylor running attack to a mere thirty yards with Boyd, Bransom, Vaughn, Steffens, and Britt outstanding. The Bears scored first on a pass from Patterson to Wimpee, who had gotten into the clear behind the goal line. The Aggies lost no time in evening the count and marched eighty yards for their lone touchdown. Todd carried the ball over on an end sweep after several tries into the line by Kimbrough and Price. The Cadets never looked better and they gave the fans an exhibition of power plays, the like of which had never been seen in this section. With the fine game the Aggie club put on, they should have won, but the breaks in a couple of spots and two desperate stands by the Bears prevented the victory.

Todd fakes, plunges, and finally escapes the Bears

Bob Hall, a back with lots of drive, showed well in his first year of varsity play, and is a good blocking back prospect. He is a steady player and will gain lots of yards by carrying the ball.

A triple-threater and a four sports man is Marion Pugh. He labors in the backfield, and knows how to pound away at a line. He can hit pass receivers with regularity, and is capable of good punting.

Herb Smith, the mighty mite, played an end position and has a letter as a sophomore. He has one more year of eligibility, and will crash much interference and grab many touchdown passes.

"Cotton" Price took care of most of the Aggie passing chores. His aerial thrusts took the ball to scoring positions many times, and his running and defensive play were above par.

Charles Henke, a sophomore, likes to give the opposition trouble from the tackle post, and will get in more service during the next two years. With his weight and willingness, he will bear watching.

George Bransom, senior letterman tackle, carried the willingness to charge and to mix things with the opponents. He had the size to play the tackle position, and never lacked confidence and aggressiveness.

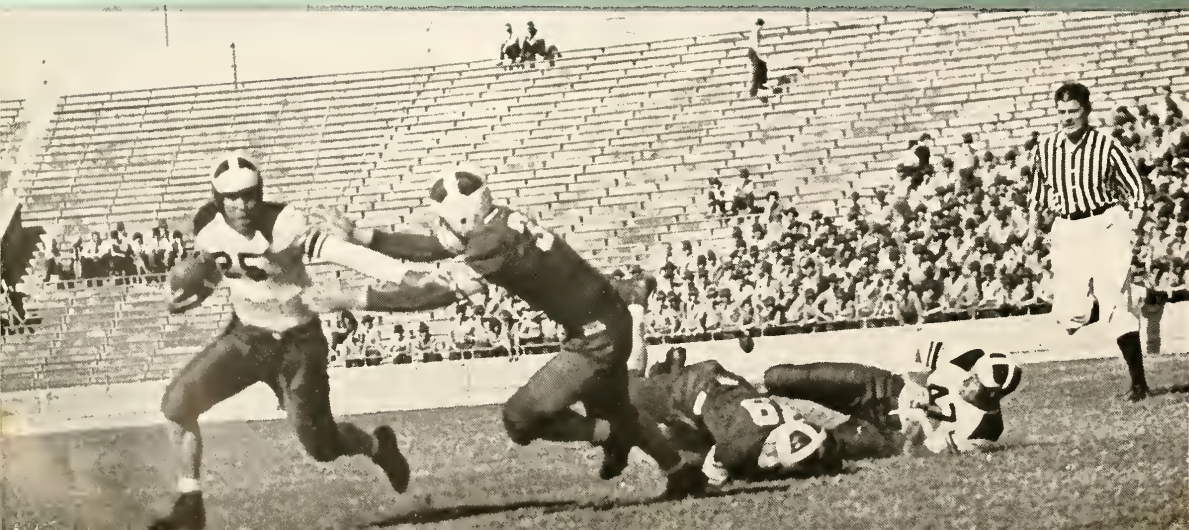

Kimbrough smashes through for a first down against the Porkers

ARKANSAS DEFEATED IN CLOSING SECONDS

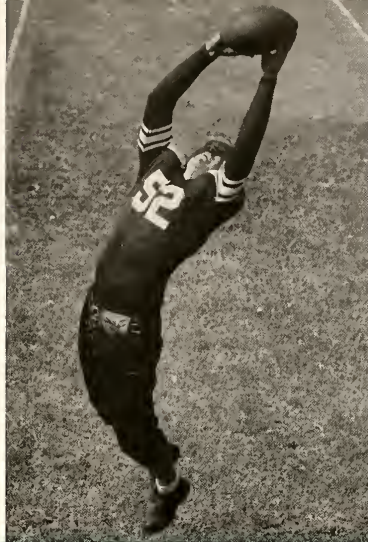

With two seconds to play, John Kimbrough, 211-pound sophomore, plunged across the Arkansas goal line from the one yard stripe and the Aggies pulled out a stirring 13-7 victory over the Razorbacks. The fans had hardly settled in their seats when they arose, almost in a mass, electrified by a sensational fifty-one yard touchdown run by Todd, senior ball carrying star for the Aggies, on the third play from scrimmage. The Hogs came right back with a fifty-four yard march which ended as Mosley plunged over from the one and which, with Mosley's placement kick, gave Arkansas a 7-6 lead to which they clung until the clock had ticked just two seconds from its limit. A. & M. opened the game-winning rally with a march from their own forty-one. Constant smashes through the line by Kimbrough, a thirty-three yard pass from Todd to Rogers, and an offside penalty placed the ball on the one yard line. Then as the cadet corps shouted, "Give it to Kimbrough," Rogers called for Big John and the job was done. He smashed over tackle with terrific drive for the score. Todd kicked goal and it was the ball game for A. & M., 13-7. The gun denoted the end of the game immediately after the next kickoff. Three times before the winning touchdown Arkansas had put up courageous goal line stands. Each Time Coach Norton sent in a field goal kicker but all attempts failed. Arkansas never threatened after the first five minutes of play but put up a grand defense. Tommy Vaughn, Karl Steffens, and Bruno Schroeder were leaders in the line play of the Aggies. Rogers played a swell game for the cadets—he ran hard, blocked well, and was much in the thick of the fray defensively. It was Kimbrough, however, that riddled the Hogs' defense in the final quarter and put A. & M. in a position for the touchdown.

This is only the start of a nice run back by Todd

Rough and tough and ready to go at all times ably describes Bill Duncan, another of the Aggie ends. His defensive work was noteworthy and he could garner in the heaves as well as anyone.

Ernie Pannell put in enough playing time at the tackle position to earn his letter as a sophomore. He was always giving all he had and this spirit broke up many plays for the opposition.

A natural end and a fighting football player is Rankin Britt. His 208 pounds made him a tower on defense and his ability as an offensive man was hard to surpass.

Jack Kimbrough, brother to Big John, is an end. He should take part in a large number of games next year and can be depended upon to give his best when called upon.

Carrying a degree of determination and fired with a "don't quit" spirit were characteristics that made one admire Stubby Warden. He played guard but got in only limited playing time.

Block Olbrich came to the varsity after playing intramural football, and earned his letter this year after two years with the squad. He was a stalwart guard and turned in capable performances.

Mallouf of S.M.U. is thrown for a loss

FIELD GOAL DEFEATS A. & M.

Only a half turn of the minute hand remained when Pasqua, an S.M.U. substitute, rose off the players bench, jogged out in the middle of a wind-swept field, and kicked a field goal from the thirty-five yard line. One of the stunned sellout throng of 22,000 caught the ball in the end zone stands before a spontaneous scream that signalized Southern Methodists' fantastic 10-7 triumph over the favored Texas Aggies. It was a perfect kick and ended a Methodist riot that wiped out the Aggies' touchdown lead and produced one of the most amazing victories ever witnessed at Ownby Stadium in Dallas. Even then the excitement wasn't over for "Pelly" Dittman, Aggie back, took a lateral from Duncan, who had picked up the Methodists' dribble kickoff. He started on his own thirty-five and scrambled down the sideline for what seemed a certain touchdown until he was bounced out of bounds on the S.M.U. twenty-five. The Aggies scored first in the second period when Todd speared a sixty yard Methodist kick on his own forty and in almost incredible fashion squirmed along the sideline sixty yards for a touchdown. S.M.U. tacklers stopped him, grabbed him, and finally slid off in futile efforts to stop the Crowell Cyclone. It was the most brilliant of his many punt returns made in three college years. The S.M.U. touchdown came as a result of an Aggie fumble on their forty-seven yard stripe. A forward pass; a run to the Aggie ten yard line; and another pass in the end zone, followed by the extra point, tied the game. Four minutes later they again covered an Aggie fumble on the Aggie forty-two, and two plays later, Pasqua came off the bench for his kick and a win for S.M.U.

The Aggies boot a perfect goal against the Ponies

Dan Jardell, a sophomore from Louisiana, is another squadman that will bear watching. He put in much hard work this year, and kept his competition hustling to stay on the first string.

Marshall Robnett is another sophomore that played steady ball. He was faced with the task of taking Joe Routt's place at guard, and will surely go a long way before completing his years at Aggieland.

"Chip" Routt, a brother of All-American Joe, is big, rough, and tough. He will play lots of ball in his remaining years, and should be a full time man for the line.

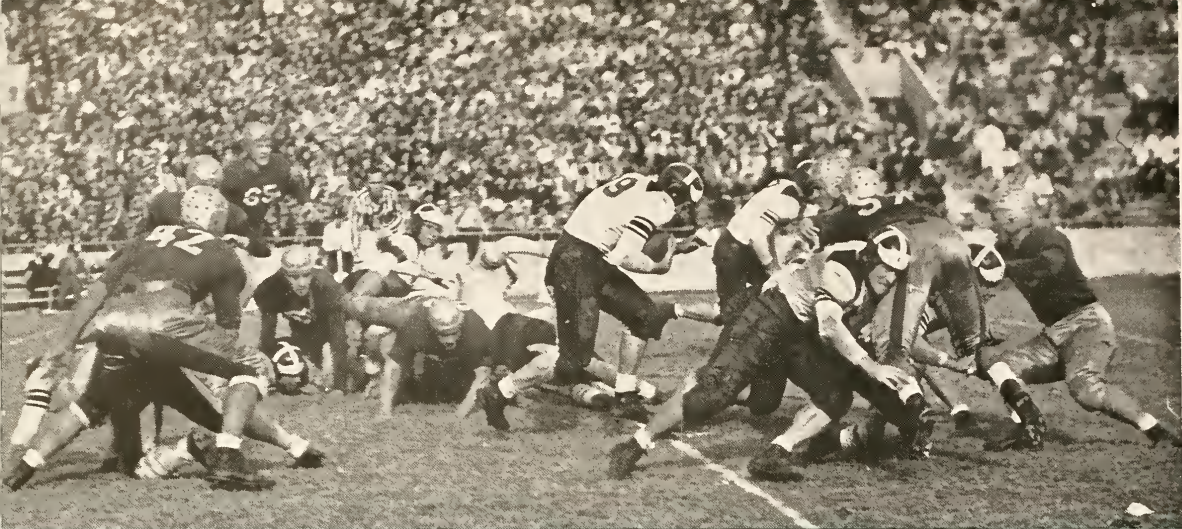

"Bull" Minnock, one of the best guards in the Conference, is a senior this year, and has earned two letters. He played a superior game in the line and was a sixty minute performer.

Eli Rushing, a senior, turned in nice work at center when in the game. His play at backing the line ended numerous enemy thrusts, and he also turned in a nice offensive game.

Bubba Reeves, a sophomore, did not get much recognition this year, but will be fighting for a guard position next year, and he is sure to see much service in the Aggie forward wall.

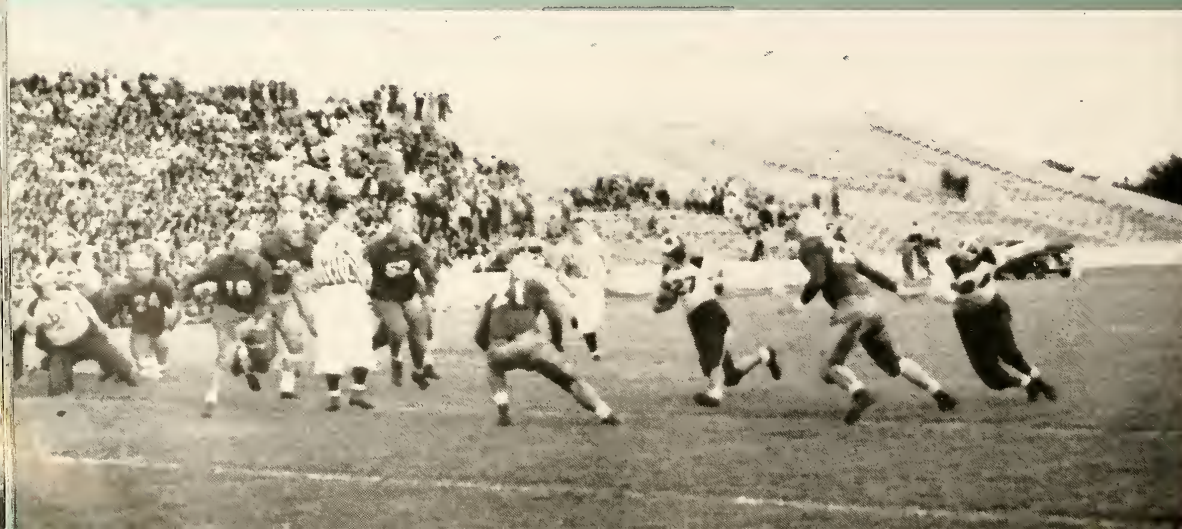

Perfect blocking and Kimbrough tears up the Owl line

RICE OWLS BOW TO CADETS

The Aggies, showing a fine defense, a passing attack that accounted for two touchdowns and set up two more, and a running attack that piled up much yardage, gave the Rice Owls the worst defeat they have suffered since 1933. The final score was 27-0. Todd and Kimbrough topped the Aggie offensive which rolled up two first period touchdowns, added another in the third period, and capped off with another in the final quarter. The last touchdown came with Aggie reserves in the game. Others who helped the Aggie offensive greatly were Price, Thomason, and Rogers, who called another neat game for the Cadets. Schroeder had a big afternoon slicing through and breaking up Rice interference, and Pannell, Boyd, Steffens, and Minnock played steady ball against the Owls. The entire club was fighting hard and just weren't to be beaten. Once the Aggies took charge of the ball in the opening quarter they needed but five plays to reach pay dirt. After moving the ball to the Rice twenty-eight, Price faded way back, shot a short pass to Thomason and he galloped the remaining twenty-eight yards for a touchdown. Only a few minutes later Kimbrough was rushed into the game and smashed off tackle for the score after the ball had again been pushed to the Rice five. Kimbrough scored the next touchdown, also, after Todd had passed twenty-one yards to Schroeder for a first down on the Owl seven. The Aggie reserves were sent into the game and after several exchanges of punts, the ball was carried to the Rice five yard line. The Aggies drew a fifteen yard penalty, but not to be denied a score, called upon a pass from Jeffrey to Herman, who took the ball on the five and slipped away for another touchdown. Hall kicked the extra point and the score as the game ended was 27-0.

Geer runs back a punt in the Rice game

John Kimbrough, the find of the year, became a power in the Aggie backfield. His line plunges yielded much yardage, and the opposition found plenty of trouble in stopping this human battering ram.

Heading the list of tackles was Boo-Hoo Boyd. He was an All-Conference choice, and was a menace to opposing players, both offensively and defensively. He has another year, and is headed for All-American honors.

Bill Miller, likely looking sophomore end prospect, won a freshman numeral, but failed to see considerable service this year. Four lettermen ahead of him was the chief reason, but he will be in there in the future.

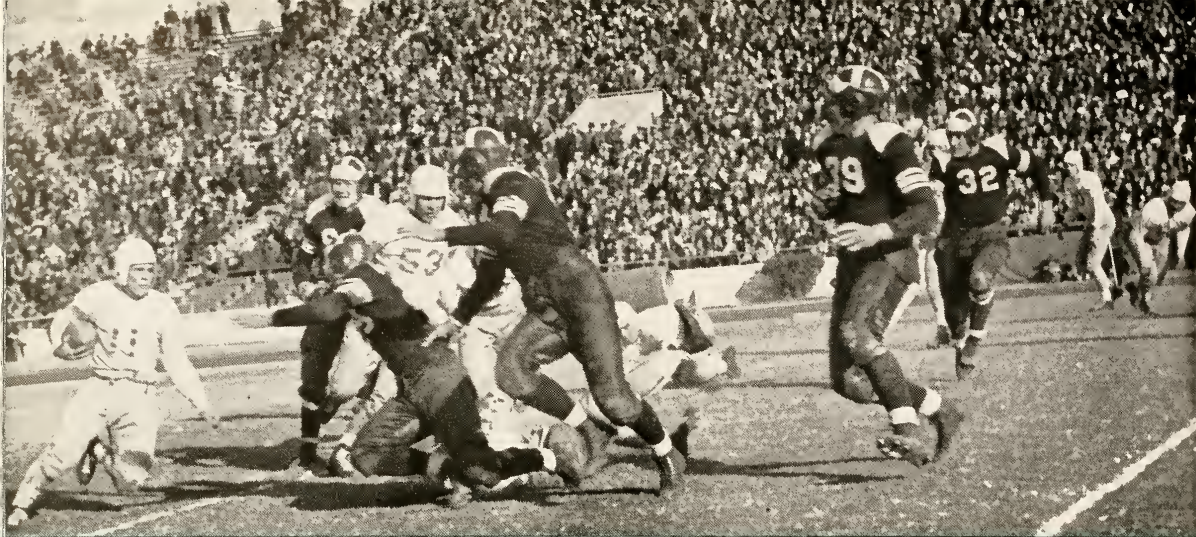

Playing in the same position as Joe Boyd was a big factor that kept "Big Dog" Dawson out of the line-up much this year. He is only a sophomore, and will probably be a starter next year.

Finis White, a sophomore capable of playing three grid positions, was placed at end after his freshman year. He is being developed and should make good before he is through.

Zed Coston, a rugged type of football player, always enjoyed a rough game. He ended his career with three letters and splendid work as a center to his credit.

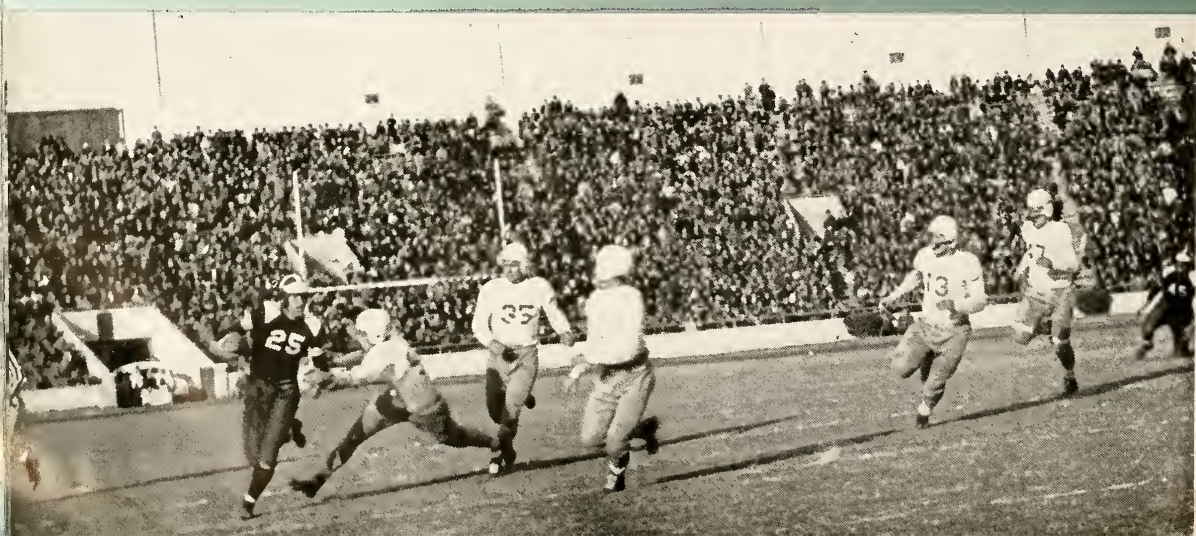

Little Gilly Davis runs into a group of Aggies

TEXAS WINS THANKSGIVING GAME 7-6

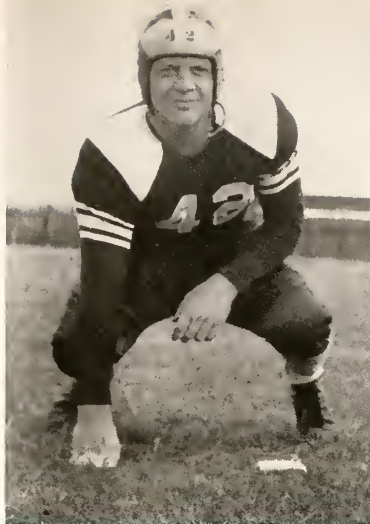

A determined Texas University football team, guarding a tradition of sixteen long years, rose to great heights before 40,000 fans on Thanksgiving afternoon and smashed through for a 7-6 decision at the expense of the Texas Aggie team. For sixteen long years Texas has won against the Aggies in Austin and until the closing minutes of this game the turf of Memorial Stadium had never permitted the Aggies a touchdown. When the Farmers finally broke through the scoreless jinx, it was a guard—Alvin Olbrich—who covered a fumble back of the goal line. The Longhorns threatened three times to score in the first half, but in three goal line stands, Boyd, Thomason, and Vaughn turned in stellar work for the Aggies. Dick Todd was the chief Aggie threat, but was never able to shake loose for a touchdown. John Kimbrough, battering fullback, was the other Aggie ground gainer. No scores were made by either side until the fourth period which began with Texas having the ball on the Aggie forty-five. Five plays carried the ball to the four yard line and from there Texas scored on a smash through left tackle. The kick for extra point was good. The Aggies tried a desperate passing attack, but when that failed Todd kicked out on the Texas ten. The Longhorns lost five yards in two tries and then Moers fumbled when hit by Robnett. Olbrich covered and the Texas supporters spent a breathless moment as the Cadets lined up to try for the seventh point. A howl of glee from the Longhorn backers and a sigh from the Aggies greeted the blocked place kick, and once more the Aggies had tasted defeat at the hands of the Longhorns in Memorial Stadium in Austin.

Todd fights off the Longhorns all alone

"Korky" Steffens is another back that was converted to a guard. He turned in a creditable job again this season, and stopped many touchdown efforts of the opposing clubs. He is a senior.

Another back that was converted into an end was Bruno Schroeder, pass snatcher deluxe, who loved to slice through the interference and make tackles. He never slowed up while in the game, and left little to be desired both on the defense and offense.

Fim Wood has been on the varsity squad for two seasons, but didn't put in enough time to letter. He is a good punter and knows how to handle himself in the backfield.

Showing that he can run, punt, and tackle, Bill Conatser will be a familiar backfield figure next year. His punting proved valuable this season, and he will be much heard of before he leaves here.

Carl Geer is a speedy back that will see more playing time in the next two years. He showed much promise in toting the ball, and with a little more grooming will be ready to go.

Another Aggie center that is plenty big and rough is Henry Hauser. With two more years before him, he is sure to gain recognition, and will handle his assignments with the best.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL SQUAD

Every individual on the freshman football squad this year bids fair to become an outstanding varsity star in future years, and after their performances, which showed splendid cooperation and team work, the squad can be rated as equal in potentialities to that of any first-year squad in the conference. The squad fell short, in general, of the number and ability of the 1937 crop, but that group was one of the greatest freshman teams ever to report to a conference school. Three games were played by the fish this year and they ended their schedule with one win, one loss, and one game tied, but this record does not adequately describe the fine play and hard work that these boys put out. Fifty-two freshmen were used in running up a score of 33-12 against Allen Academy, and in the next game, the fish battled to a 7-7 draw with the Rice slimes. The last game preceded the Thanksgiving Day game and the Aggie freshmen were narrowly beaten by the University of Texas freshmen with a score of 7-6. Assisting Head Freshman Coach McQuillen were Charles DeWare, '37, former All-Conference center, and Virgil Jones, '39, who completed his eligibility last fall and who was an All-Conference guard. It is safe to say that Coach McQuillen and his assistants have taught the boys a lot and have done much in preparing them for major league competition next fall.

BASEBALL

BASEBALL SQUAD

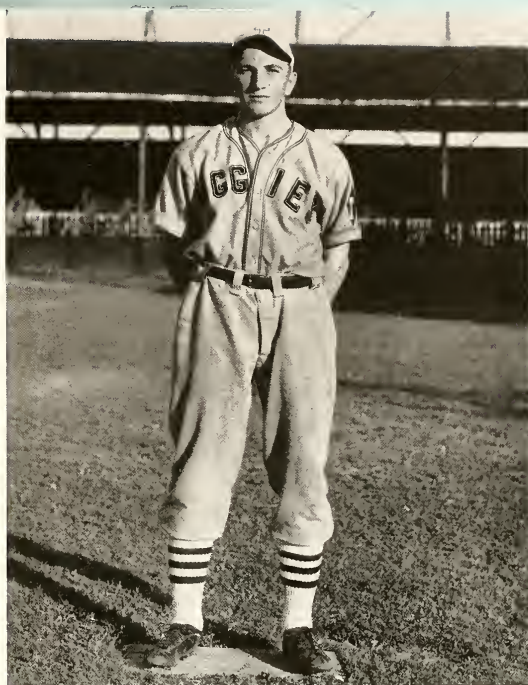

COACH KAROW

With a nine that was composed almost entirely of first year varsity men, the Aggie baseball club ended the Conference season in third place, being surpassed only by a formidable Texas U. crew and a swell Baylor nine. The team was coached by Marty Karow, serving his first year at A. & M., and his ability and control over the boys was early reflected in the way the team progressed and performed on the diamond. The chief task was rebuilding the championship aggregation of 1937 that was shattered by graduation, but the freshman squad produced sufficient material from which to develop a smooth functioning, powerful nine. The 1938 squad had on its roster numerous stellar batsmen and in the field it presented a defense that was practically airtight and near errorless. The baseball squad puts in much time and hard work each season, and they, along with the participants in the other sports, are doing their share to keep the athletic standing of A. & M. in the Southwest Conference at a high level.

BASEBALL CAPTAIN

The honor and task of serving as captain of the 1938 baseball club was given to Woody Bell, the only senior returning to the squad. His popularity with the other members of the team and the students was very much in evidence during the year and in his capacity as captain, he proved to be instrumental in making the baseball season a fairly successful one. Woody played in the outfield and a better one was hard to be found. At the plate he was a constant threat and his left-handed swings carried lots of power. His timely blow over the wall in the last inning of the '37 Texas game broke up a tied ball game and it will long be remembered. All in all, he was a swell athlete, a good Aggie, and a fine baseball captain.

AGGIES LOSE TO BAYLOR BUT WIN ALL GAMES FROM RICE

The 1938 baseball club got off to a rocky start in the conference race by dropping both games of the first series with Baylor. In the first fray it took a triple with two men aboard to give the Bears a 7-5 victory. Lindsey hurled and Bell shone at bat. In the second game the Aggies were again defeated by a score of 11-7. Stone, Kirkpatrick, and Nolen were outstanding and Cohn and Polanovich did the pitching. The final game with the Bears found the Aggies taking the best of a 3-1 contest. Cohn ran his record of scoreless innings to twenty-five before a run was scored in the ninth and Cooper, Alsobrook, and Stone did the heavy hitting.

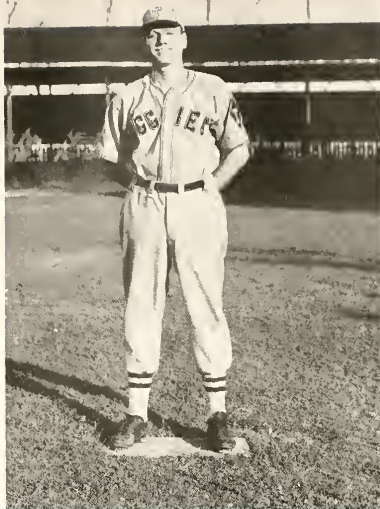

The first conference win came as a result of a 3-2 victory over Rice. Lindsey allowed only four hits, being aided with great fielding by the entire club and hard hitting by Nolen, Williams, Doran, and Stone. The second game with the Owls was a weird affair and the Aggies won with ease. Six runs were scored in an inning that saw Alsobrook steal home along with a flourish of base knocks. Cohn pitched and also contributed in the hitting with Stone, Alsobrook, Bell, and Williams. The series with Rice was completed with A. & M. winning a loosely-played, free hitting game 7-6.

Cohn puts one over for a called strike

"Kirk" Kirkpatrick, a catcher and outfielder, was out a greater part of the season because of an operation. When he was in the lineup, however, he was valuable both at bat and in the field.

Finishing out his baseball career at Aggie-land, Woody Bell played hard at all times to help his team make the fine showing they did. He played in the outfield and was captain of the team.

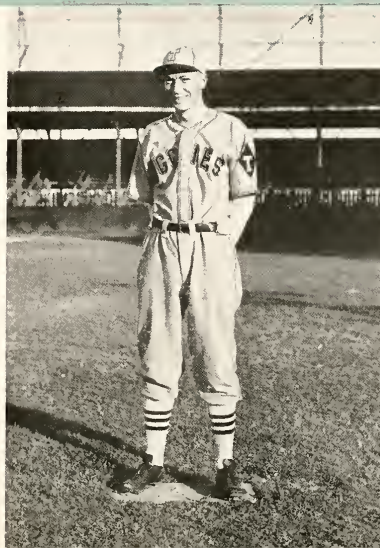

Playing good ball at short, and showing heavy hitting ability, Jack Cooper broke into a great number of the Aggie games. He topped the Aggie hitters and produced many valuable blows.

First base for the Aggies was always well protected with "Rube" Williams performing at that corner. His defensive play was far above par and he was one of the most dangerous hitters on the squad.

Johnny Spreen was used chiefly as a relief pitcher. He worked hard and was always ready to go if some other chunker found the going a bit too rough.

Jack Doran, a sophomore, served as the regular catcher for the Aggies. He showed well in handling the pitchers and was always a constant threat at the plate, swinging from the left side.

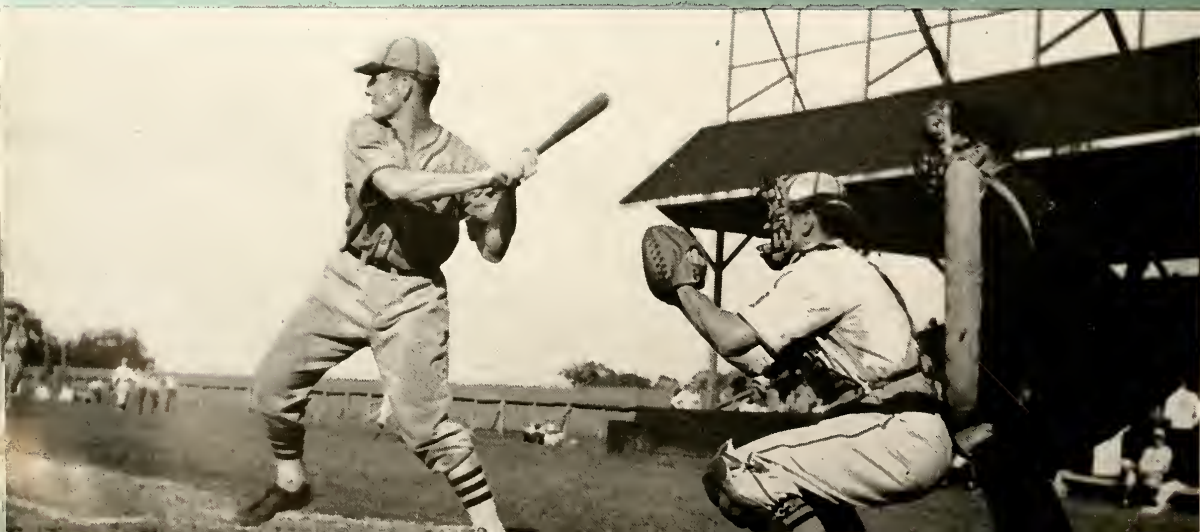

The scene of many hard fought diamond battles

A. & M. SWEEPS SERIES WITH S.M.U. AND T.C.U.

Coming from behind in grand style, the improved Aggie club won the first game with S.M.U. to the tune of 9-3. Ralph Lindsey turned in another four-hit exhibition and looked good the entire nine innings. Seven runs were made in the last three frames to put the game on ice. The final games with the Mustangs were played as a double header, which was halved by the two clubs. The Aggies lost the first game 9-6, but took a 1-0 thriller in the nightcap game. Lindsey and Polanovich pitched the opening tussle and Cohn turned in a marvelous demonstration of nice work in the final game.

The series with T.C.U. was completed with all of the games in A. & M.'s possession. The Frogs were walloped 12-1 in the opener and the second tilt was taken by the Aggies with equal ease. The score was 9-2. Kirkpatrick, Nolen, and Cooper blasted out homers to lead the Aggie hitting and Cohn, Spreen, and Polanovich ably handled the pitching chores in the two games. In their last engagement with the A. & M. club, the Frogs went down again as Lindsey and Polanovich pitched the cadets to a 5-2 victory. Williams, Bell, and Stone captured the hitting honors for the Aggies.

Doran starts his swing for a base hit

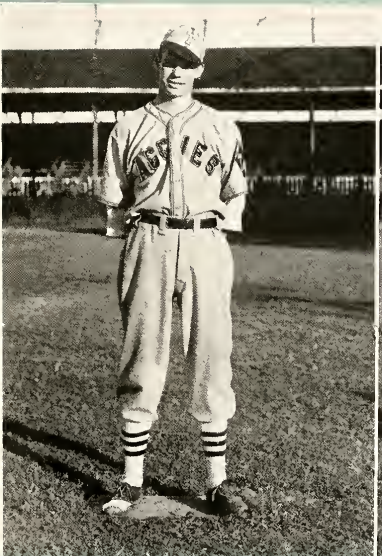

Another mainstay of the mound staff was Ralph Lindsey, a sophomore. He showed surprising ability as a first year man and will deserve watching in his remaining years at Aggieland.

Dave Alsobrook, playing his first year of varsity baseball, came through with many sparkling performances in the outer gardens. Together with this defensive power he carried the ability to hit well and received the Most Valuable Man trophy.

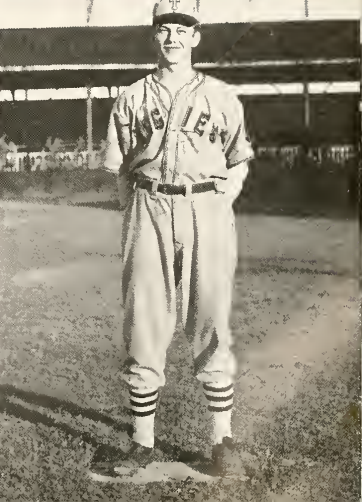

"Snipe" Conley, a sophomore, remained on the Aggie squad all season but failed to get in any of the games. He worked as a pitcher and will see service before he graduates.

"Spanky" Karcher also devoted his time to roaming the outer gardens. He was a very able fly-hawk and could take his turn with the best at the bat.

"Red" Schraub served mainly as the utility infielder for the Aggies. He played mostly at short and second and could very ably fill the place of one of the regulars.

Tony Polanovich, a converted catcher, may be termed the surprise of the Aggie mound corps. He showed a nice fast ball and could curve them as well as anyone.

Alsobrook swipes home against the Longhorns

LONGHORNS WIN FROM AGGIES TO TAKE THE 1938 CROWN

In the Aggies' first meeting with Texas, the two clubs turned their proposed serious drama of clashing pennant aspirations into a comedy of hits and runs that ended with the Longhorns taking virtually a strangle hold on the Conference crown by finishing on top of an 18-13 score. Thirty-one hits that included five homers and seven doubles, two thefts of home, a parade of pitchers that was climaxed by the Aggies' use of Stone, and a near fight between a Longhorn and the umpire were all features of the long-drawn-out contest that was preceded by a dedication to the memory of Charles DeWare, former Aggie athletic great. Alsobrook hit two doubles and a single and stole home, the first time A. & M. has pulled the feat against Texas, to gain top honors. Timmerman made a great catch against the wall that was easily the fielding gem.

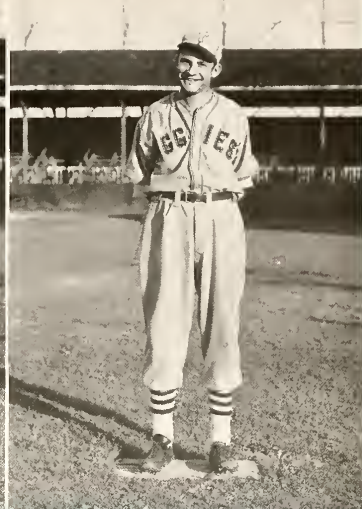

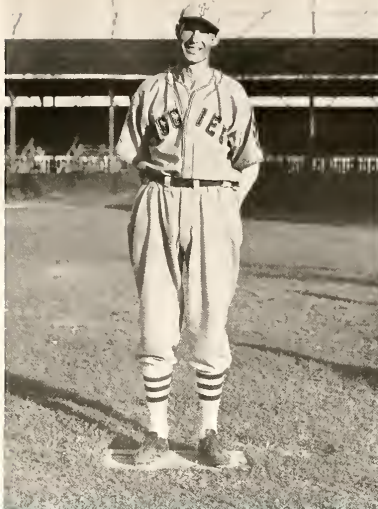

The assaults of the A. & M. sluggers were too much for the Longhorns in the second game and they lost to the Aggies 9-13. The game went eleven innings and ended with the Steer captain striking out with the bases loaded. Karcher homered in the eleventh with two on to greatly help the Aggie cause. The last game was won by Texas and gave them the crown for the '38 season. Alsobrook, voted the most valuable player for the season, hit three out of four, but the Aggies made eleven errors and consequently lost the contest.

A solid base knock and the runners advance

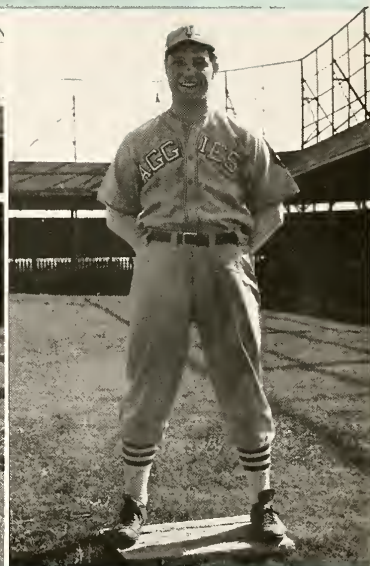

Bailey Timmerman was another of the Aggie outfielders. He could cover all of his territory easily and could be depended upon to handle anything that came his way.

Larry Cohn was the ace portsider of the club. His left-handed deliveries were always a bother to the opposition and he could always be counted upon to give all he had.

Although he was used only sparingly last season, Johnny Rice has a good chance to become a regular before he finishes. He plays in the outfield and is capable of hitting the ball.

"Block" Olbrich, a substitute catcher, was another who saw little service, but he worked hard all the time and was always ready to do his bit for the Aggie team.

Holding down the hot corner was the job assigned to Bob Stone and he turned in a very satisfactory performance for the season. His defensive play was near perfect and his hitting was good.

Playing the short or second base positions were specialties of Jimmy Nalen and he showed much promise as a sophomore. He was also a distance hitter and loved to rattle the boards.

FRESHMAN BASEBALL SQUAD

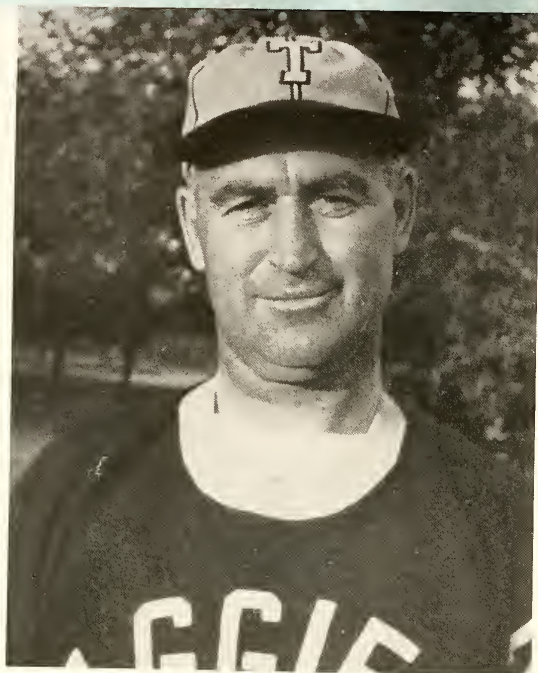

Features of the 1938 freshman baseball squad that enabled them to go through their schedule of games with only one defeat were an unusually strong mound staff, tremendous power at the hitting station, and smooth work in the field. The first game of their season was played against the Caldwell Hornets and the fish had an easy time in taking them to the score of 10-3. Two games were played with the Texas University freshmen and each club took one game in this series. The Aggie fish lost the first affair 3-4, but came back in the second fray to win 6-3. Sam Bass proved to be the outstanding hurler on the squad and others that served as pitchers were Olbrich, White, and Donovan. The rest of the main nine, strong in all respects, was built up from the following freshman baseballers: Carten, Pugh, Lindsey, Rothe, Jeffrey, Boyle, Moon, Owen, and Sims. This group of capable athletes is sure to furnish valuable material for the varsity nine and to Lil Dimmitt, coach of the freshman club, and all of the freshman players go our recognitions for the work that they have done and the efforts that they have contributed to help build the athletic history of our A. & M. College.

BASKETBALL

BASKETBALL SQUAD

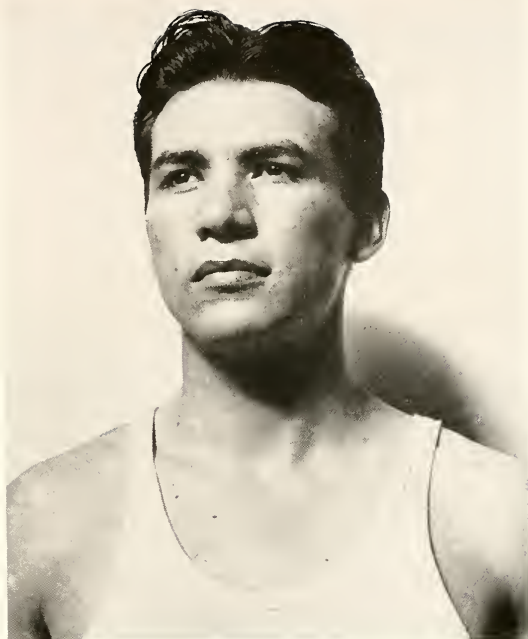

COACH McQUILLEN

The basketball squad this year was not blessed with veterans by any means, but the men that did make up the squad were cagers that believed in fighting and hustling from whistle to whistle. The team showed sound coaching and turned in many finished performances. Especially commendable were the smooth floor games and the tight defensive play that was a feature of all of the cadets games. Even though they went through the season rather unimpressively as far as winning games was concerned, the spirit, fight, and willingness of the Aggie basketekers kept the opponents from winning by large margins. Even in defeat, the Aggie cagers and Coach McQuillen deserve every credit, and with the experienced men that will be available, they should be right at the top of the conference heap in the future.

BASKETBALL CAPTAIN

Heading the Aggie basketeers in their efforts on the hardwoods this year was Sammy Dwyer, an all-state high school cager, and the only letterman returning from last years quint. Sammy, who was a guard, was a cool and conservative player and the aggressiveness and ability that he showed all season was a big factor in all of the Cadets' games and a great help in building a smooth working team from rather inexperienced varsity cage material. His floor game was filled with neat ball handling and alert defensive work, and his goal-tossing was effective from all angles. Sammy's capability and hard work is worthy of merit and with the benefit of added experience, he should become one of the best basketball players ever to sport the Aggie colors.

SAMMY DWYER

Action Galore In One Of The Home Games

The Aggies Fight for a Toss-up Under the Basket

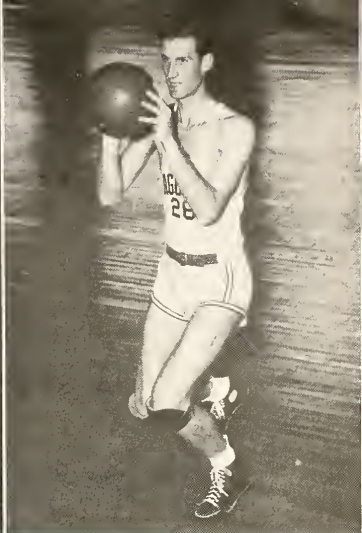

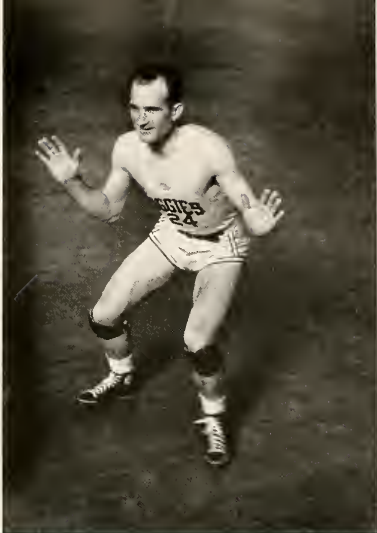

Beginning the season with only one letterman, and suffering the loss of two squadmen and the ineligibility of Dwyer, the lone letterman, at mid-term, "Hub" McQuillen and his Aggie cagers were considered the underdogs in virtually every contest they entered, and after the closing gun of the last game had fired, their season record showed two wins and ten losses. Despite the deplorable ratio between the wins and losses, the Aggies possessed a team spirit that produced many hard-fought, thrilling battles. Opening the conference season against Rice, the A. & M. quint took a 51 to 39 lashing from a clever, fast-moving Owl five. In their next engagement with the same club, A. & M. was downed, 37 to 29, as Rice took its third conference victory. In the next game, a fray that was nip and tuck with the score being tied six times, Baylor outlasted the Aggies and trimmed them, 38 to 34, with four field goals in the last nine minutes of play. The first victory of the season came at the expense of T. C. U. when the Aggies staged a rousing second period rally to win, 24 to 18. With this win the A. & M. team left the conference cellar as the Frogs lost their third straight contest. The Mustangs were the next victors over the cadets and the game following was played on the home court with Texas. The desperate, determined Aggies came within four points of toppling the Steers from the top in the torrid conference race, but the Steers pulled away in the last half to win, 41 to 37.

Fast Action as the Aggies Work in for a Shot

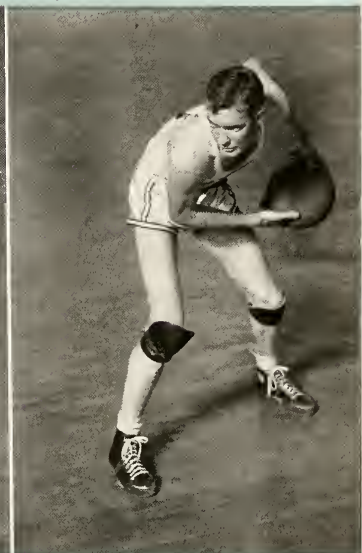

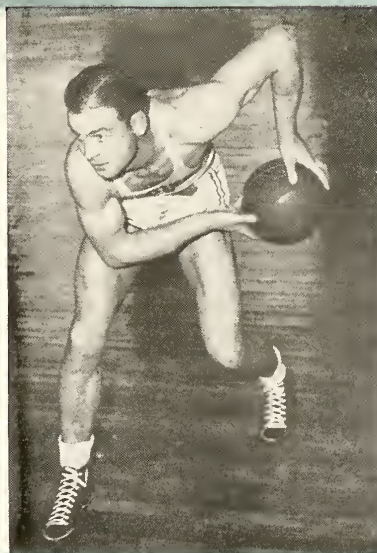

J. T. Lang, sharp-shooting Aggie guard, sparked the cadet team many times this year, his first varsity season, with his accurate long range shots and hustle on the floor in both defense and offense.

Reuben Wheelis, a center with one year of varsity experience, came to A. & M. from a junior college. He could get the ball off the backboard, and his height made him a good defensive man.

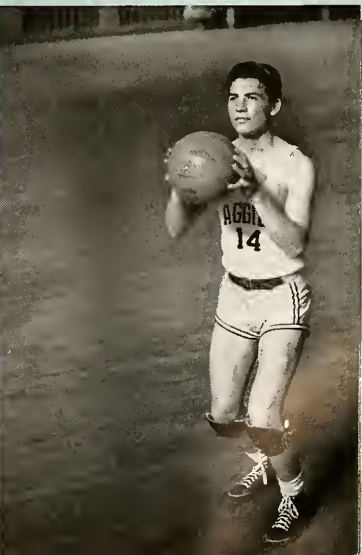

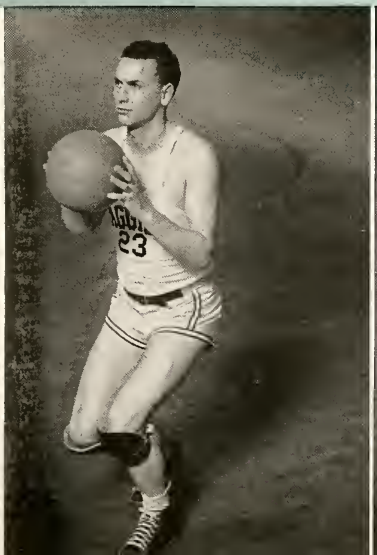

Paul Wofford, graduating senior and several sports man, worked as a guard for the Aggies and was capable of turning in valuable play at this position on the hardwoods.

Another junior college transfer is James Carrigan. He performed at a forward position for the Aggies and his games were filled from start to finish with offensive gems and tight defensive play.

A sophomore that proved valuable to the club as a forward this year was Al Scarborough. He was not a first string man but could ably fill the place of one of the regulars.

Sammy Dwyer, leader of the team until he became ineligible at mid-term, was the only returning letterman and his work at the guard position left little to be desired in the way of smooth play.

A Desperate Scramble for the Ball

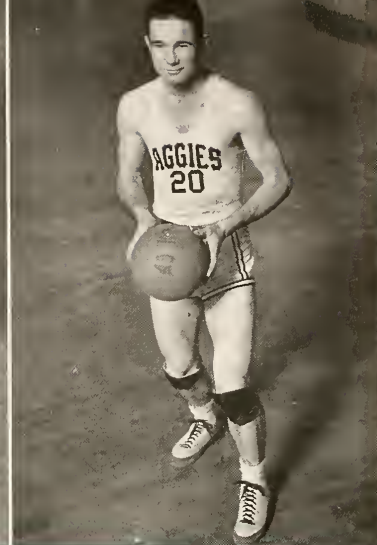

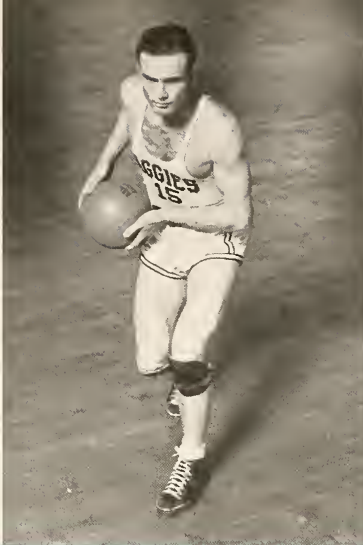

Going into the remainder of their games with one win, the Aggies encountered Baylor in a game at Waco. Again the Aggies lost to a bevy of sharpshooting cagemen that were fighting to stay in the scrambled flag chase. A breath-taking last-half Bear rally trimmed the Farmers, 47 to 23. The cellar championship was settled in the next game when the Aggies defeated T. C. U., 44 to 36, the Aggies marking up their second win of the season, both of which having been over the Frogs. S. M. U. broke their losing streak on the Aggies' court three days later when they won, 48 to 23, in one of the roughest and wildest games that has been seen here in many a day. This game closed the home season for the Aggies, and they journeyed to Arkansas for two games in which they took the two worst lickings they had to take this season. In the first game the Hogs dished the Cadets a 61 to 42 licking and mopped the Cadets to the tune of 66 to 38 the next night. The lone remaining game found the Aggies taking a 66 to 32 drubbing from the Longhorns. This game gave them the pennant and left the Aggies in sixth place. Because of the unusually small squad and notable lack of sufficient reserve strength, the brunt of the Cadets' play was borne by a relatively fixed combination with individual replacements. This fact, and the return of the major portion of this year's squad with some promising freshman additions should make the Aggies be contenders with a veteran and seasoned squad next season.

Clever Manipulation That Netted Two More Points

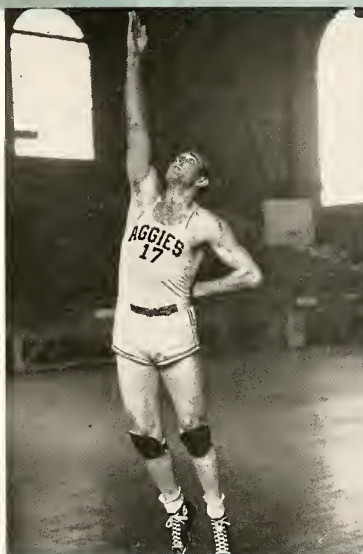

"Jude" Smith, a basketball player that could hit the basket from any position and obtain and handle the ball with ease, played brilliant ball at the guard position. He too came from a junior college.

Playing with determination and calmness, and shooting with great accuracy, Thomas Tinker formed a vital part of the Aggie quint this year. He worked in a forward slot and will be back next year.

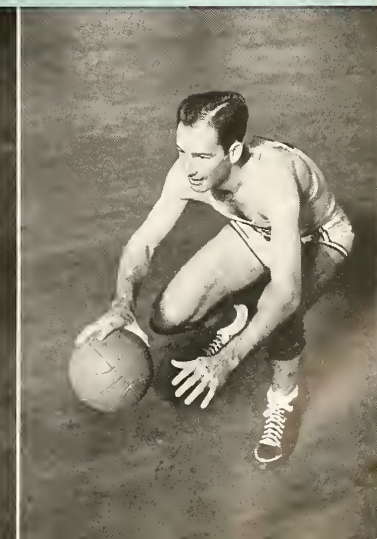

The first string center this year was Bill Dawson, a sophomore with a football letter already to his credit. Superb work under the basket and polished play throughout were features of his play.

Harold Duncan, working as a center and alternating at times as a guard, was used chiefly for reserve play. He could take his place when called on and worked with effectiveness.

Harry Holland graduated at mid-term to complete his basketball career at Aggie land. He failed to earn his letter but his work as a guard marked him as valuable for the squad.

Showing the ability to keep cool and yet play a fast, heads-up game, Woody Varnier broke into the game frequently as a guard. He has another year and will bid strongly for first string work.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL SQUAD

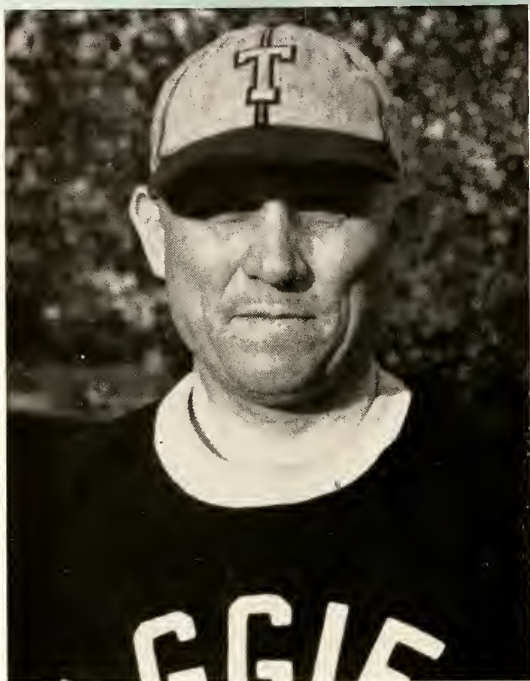

The Texas Aggie freshman basketball squad, ably tutored by Coach Manning Smith, formed a fast-breaking, hard-fighting and determined quint on the hardwoods and all of its games were marked by fast yet conservative action. The fish got valuable playing time and experience by having games with the freshman clubs of the other schools in the conference and with some junior college crews. Collectively, the freshmen worked smoothly and precisely, and individually, they boasted men that are certain to be leaders in their sport in future years. Henderson, tall, fast-scoring center; Stevenson, a ball-handler and goal-looper of unusual ability; Moser and Rogers, good athletes in several sports; Cole and Powell, hard fighting basketekers, all are sure to have successful athletic careers. Besides these men, the fish had Adams, Rammage, Walker, Wood, Clark, Crouch, Feltenstein, and Mayfield to round out a well-balanced, clean-fighting, and dependable fish basketball squad.

TRACK

TRACK SQUAD

COACH ROLLINS

The Texas Aggie track squad, coached by the likeable Dough Rollins, boasted a squad that was composed of able and determined men in each division of this sport. Even though they did not win the conference championship, the Aggies were a team that gave all they had in each meet and, as a result, they garnered enough points to label them as a strong, well-balanced group of cinder specialists. With no glaring weaknesses, and several very strong entrants in the various events, the team had the necessary balance and consistency to make the other teams dig from start to finish to keep astride with or to defeat their Aggie opponents. The track men spend long hours in training and for their courageous spirit and valiant efforts, they deserve recognition.

TRACK CAPTAINS

The Aggie cinder artists of 1938 were captained by two able and determined members of their squad—Pelly Dittman and Dick Vitek. These two men could always be counted upon to score their share of the points in the track meets and both of them had enough love for track to give them a fighting spirit. Dick Vitek, graduating senior, ran in the 100 yard dash and the 440 relay and for his good nature and all-around athletic ability will long be remembered by the Aggies. Dittman, a junior, took part in the 220 and 440 dashes and the mile relay. He is certain to be a leading Aggie contender in his senior year.

Six starters get out of their pits

The Texas Aggie track team opened the 1938 season by playing hosts to the thinly clad of Sam Houston State Teachers College and Southwest State Teachers College in a triangular meet. The Aggies had little difficulty in overpowering their two rivals and ran up a total of 101 points to 47 for Southwest Texas and 11 for Sam Houston. Dick Todd took individual honors with a first place in the low hurdles and second places in the high hurdles and the broad jump. A week later the team entered eighteen varsity men in the annual Southwestern Exposition track and field meet in Fort Worth. They were bent on repeating the championship won in this meet in 1937, but placed second in the meet with 34 points as compared to 70 for the entrants from Texas University. Mickey Hogan won the Aggies only first place with a win in the half-mile, but Dough Rollins' pupils marked up three seconds, three thirds, and a fourth. Seven of the events in the University of Texas Relays were entered by the cadets. Here again they placed second to the Texas crew, but were far ahead of the other entrants in the quadrangular affair. The mile relay team turned in its best time of the season to this date despite the fact that it gained only second place, Howard Payne winning first. Strother turned in nice performances in the mile and two mile runs and several other Aggies showed up nicely.

Ken Mills caught in mid-air

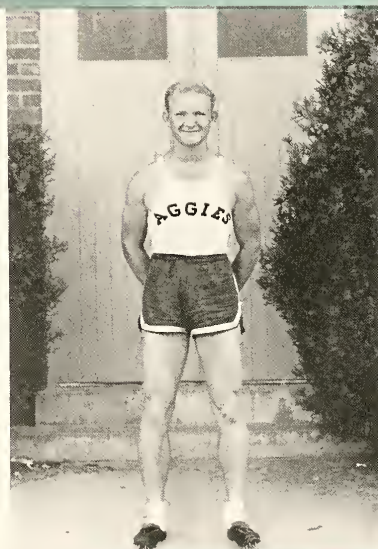

"Dick" Vitek, senior and co-captain of the track team, formed the nucleus of the Aggie performers in the sprints and relays. He was always good for a fair quota of the points.

Heading the list of broad jumpers and forming also a part of the sprint relay team was Dick Todd. His presence on the squad bolstered the strength of the team considerably in the events he entered.

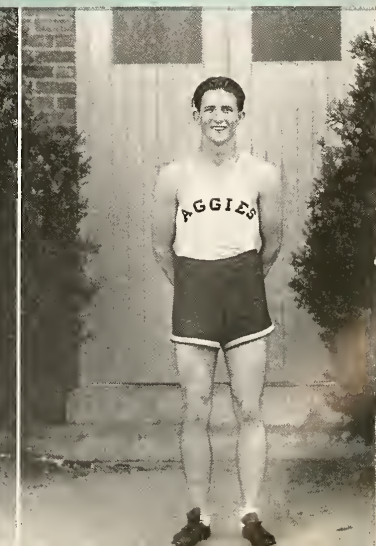

"Pelly" Dittman, serving with Vitek as co-captain, specialized in the 440 and the mile relays. He has another year of eligibility and will certainly be a vital man on the 1939 squad.

Bruno Schroeder, specialist in the weight events, accounted for a large portion of the Aggies' points that were gained in discus and shot put. Just as in football, he was always trying hard.

Claude Strother found his specialty in the grueling two mile run and his efforts in this event accounted for many top places. He also took part in the other distance runs and always turned in good time.

Performing also in the two mile run for the Aggies was C. V. Griffin, a senior. With lots of stamina and endurance, Griffin could take the punishment of this affair in full stride.

A close finish with an S.M.U. entrant winning

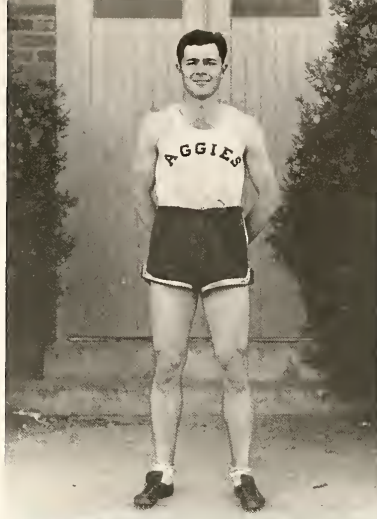

Fred Wolcott, Rice Institute's star hurdler and track man, led the Owls to victory over the Aggies in a dual meet held here. The Aggies won six firsts and nine seconds, but the three first by Wolcott and seven firsts by other members of the Rice squad were enough to win the meet. Moser turned in an upset by winning the 440 yard dash in the stretch from Steakley of Rice, who was favored to win the event. Continuing through the season, the Aggies next entered in a triangular meet with Howard Payne and Abilene Christian. Superiority in the field events swept the Aggies to an easy victory as they scored 96 points to 49 for Howard Payne and 24 for Abilene Christian. The highlight of this meet was the Aggies' upset of Howard Payne's heretofore undefeated mile relay team, the last cadet runner breasting the tape eight yards in the lead. Five of the Aggie track performers entered the sprint medley and the mile relay in the Kansas relays at Lawrence, Kansas, and after their return from this meet, a quadrangular meet was held at Kyle field. A. & M. took a slight lead in the first race and held it throughout all events to win the meet from Baylor, Southern Methodist, and Texas Christian. A. & M. won seven first places, including both the sprint and mile relays, as compared to five for the Frogs and two each for the other teams.

Strother and Hogan finish first and second respectively

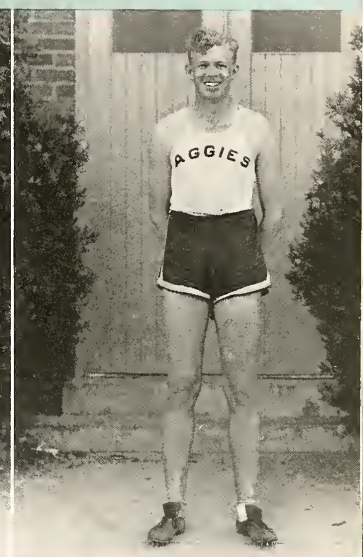

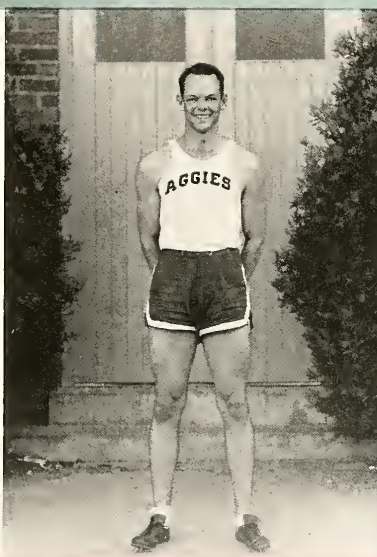

R. E. Schiller was a valuable track participant in 1938 because of his consistency and speed in running the timbers. He could cope with the best and never failed to give all he had.

M. A. Shields, 1938 senior, proved his value to the track squad by scoring numerous points in the pole vault. He was very adept in this sport and was always trying hard.

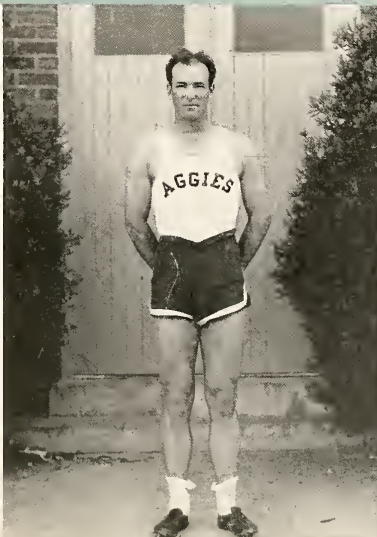

Another of the Aggie hurdlers was Paul Dillon. Topping the timbers with accuracy and speed was an easy and enjoyable task to Paul and he is due for an important track role in 1939.

C. F. Maynard gave his track and field efforts to the high jump, and he was a constant threat in that affair. High jumping demands precision and ability, and Maynard lacked neither.

One of the best javelin throwers in the conference ably describes F. O. Cloudt, a member of the Aggie team. His heaves of the spear always carried enough distance to chalk up a place.

"Teff" Sikes was an Aggie entrant in the pole vault. He was an artist in this event and could be counted upon to take a place and score points for the A. & M. team.

Over the top with just a fraction of clearance

After the quadrangular affair, the Aggies journeyed to Austin to participate in the "little conference meet" along with Texas University and Rice Institute. Real rivalry has been developed in this meet, but for the past several years the Aggies have had to take third place because of the unusually powerful cinder artists from the other schools. Running true to form, they took third place with the thinly clad from Texas annexing first to their string of victories. Good marks and first places, however, were turned in by the mile relay team in winning their event; Roy Young in the shot put; Strother in the two mile run; and Potthast in the javelin throw. The track team, concluding their season with valuable wins and victories to their credit, were not the conference champions but they could not be counted out of any of the meets they entered until the last event had been completed. Particularly impressive was the work of the mile relay team and the wins they contributed. Faubian, Potthast, Young, Cloudt, Mills, Shields, Maynard, Sikes, and Schroeder all were valuable participants in the various field events. The sprints and sprint relays had Schiller, Todd, and Vitek as leaders. In the distance runs and dashes it was Dittman, Strother and Hogan that showed particularly well, and the hurdles had Dillon as their chief contender. All in all, the season was a successful one.

Vitek wins handily in the dash

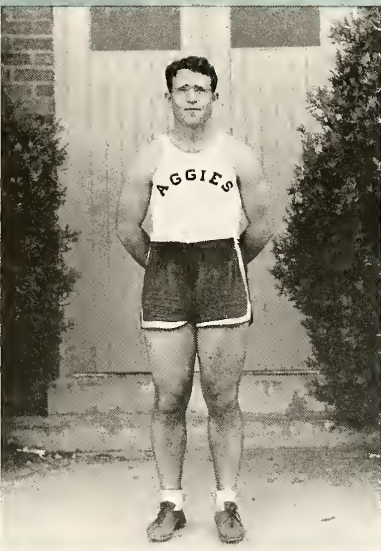

Thomas Decker, a modest, hard-worker, ran with great power in the 440 and the relays. Decker took his track work seriously and trained with pleasure. As a result he was a valuable point-maker.

Derace Moser, a four-event man for the Aggies, took part in the 220 and 440 dash and the relays. He proved in the 1938 season that he has the consistency to be a steady winner and will lead the team in 1939.

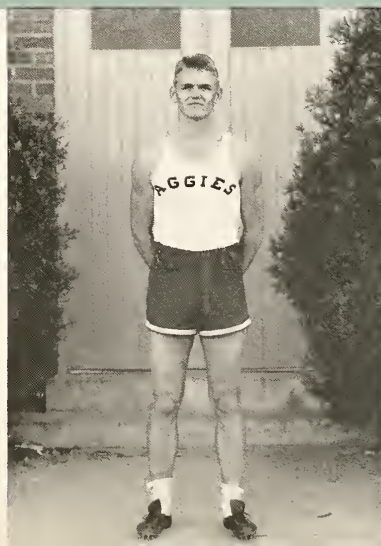

J. T. Faubian was one of the Aggies' leading weight men and worked chiefly in throwing the discus. He was the personification of smoothness and agility, and a very consistent field performer.

Always a contender for honors in the high jump and the broad jump was "Ken" Mills. He took places in practically all of the meets entered by the Aggies and was indeed a valuable man.

Harvey Storms, a track veteran who has been invaluable as a point getter to the A. & M. squad, ran the 440 yard dash and formed a part of the winning mile relay team. He was a fine competitor and a consistent runner.

"Micky" Hogan devoted his time chiefly to the 880 dash and the mile run. He packed the endurance necessary for these events and combined it with speed to be among the best runners in the conference.

FRESHMAN TRACK SQUAD

The fish track team of 1938, although not victorious in all its meets, could be classed as above mediocre in strength. The returning members of the freshman team made competition much keener for places on the varsity team this year and furnished material from which the squad was considerably bolstered. The fish cinder trotters got to take part in only a limited number of meets, but they spend their time in earnest preparation for future varsity vareers. A good record was made in the junior division of the meet held in conjunction with the Southwest Fat Stock Show and the other meets that were entered by the freshman saw the fish take their quota and more of the winning places. The most promising members of the squad, which was coached by Dough Rollins, included Conatser, Kissinger, Thomason, Kimbrough, Hargrove, and Scarborough, and they should definitely be in the thick of many varsity track and field events for the 1939 season.

MINOR SPORTS

SWIMMING

Swimming, with water polo combined, is a minor sport that is definitely increasing in popularity and importance at this school each year. Working under the direction of Coach Adamson, a swimmer who has set many records, the team has gained national recognition since its origin and is particularly noted for the strong water polo team that it presents each season. Last year marked the first time that the group met defeat, and this came in the finals of the Junior National A. A. U. water polo meet.

Meets are held with other colleges that have swimming teams and also with various Y. M. C. A. and other amateur clubs. All of the meets prove to be interesting affairs, and many spirited events and races are furnished by the Aggie swimmers.

The chief representatives on the 1939 tank team and their events included Paul Spaugh, co-holder of the conference 220 free style record; Ty Hall, medley relay and free style events; Clifton Armstrong, team captain, swimming in the 100-yard breast stroke and the relays; Momer Allen, medley relay and 50-yard free style; Harold Hensley, free style relay and individual free style races; Alex Nordhaus, free style relay and 440 free style; John Couch, free style relay and 50 and 100-yard free styles; George Japhet and Jim Crawford, 100-yard backstroke; and G. R. Davis, Bubba Reeves, and Paul Ketelson, participating in the diving events. The water polo team was drawn from the regular members of the swimming squad.

BOXING

Since every school in the Southwest Conference does not have an active boxing squad, thereby limiting competition in intercollegiate circles, the A. & M. squad has very few meets each year. The members of the Aggie team work among themselves and succeed each year in developing some promising amateur ringmen. The only outside competition the A. & M. mit tossers have is in the various A. A. U. meets, and they have made a very creditable showing in these encounters in the past. As much is expected of the entrants again this season. In spite of the fact that few meets are held, the members of the Boxing Club have gained valuable experience and also pleasure from the matches that are held among themselves, and they certainly benefit from the increase in physical skill that they obtain.

Membership in this organization is open to any student who shows sufficient interest and ability in the sport, and the efforts of the boys in the club this year should greatly augment the interest taken in boxing for the coming years. Paul Ainsworth served as chairman of the club this year and he has done his part in keeping the sport alive on the A. & M. campus. All of the other members of the club have also done their share and their work should be appreciated by all of the students.

POLO

Polo is now recognized as an official sport at A. & M., and has grown rapidly in popularity throughout the Southwest Conference. There is a familiar saying that polo is played by millionaires, cowboys, and Aggies. This year marked Captain T. D. Roberts' third year as coach of the polo team. Games were played against Oklahoma Military Academy, the University of Oklahoma, Buda, San Angelo, the Austin Collegians, the San Antonio Ramblers, and several teams from Houston. The team made a trip to Oklahoma to play a return match with the University of Oklahoma, and the Oklahoma Military Academy, and only recently participated in the Houston Invitation Tournament.

Alternating at Number 1, Brown and Culbertson played good offensive polo. Bennett, a converted Number 1, played his first season at Number 2, and teamed with Jones at Number 3 to spark the Aggie attack. Playing his third year at Number 4, Jordan, Cavalry senior and team captain, led the team by his brilliant playing both offensively and defensively. During the spring season Jordan was switched to Number 3, where his hard hitting showed up to a greater advantage, and McDonald played in the Number 4 position. Haines and Tonkin were substitutes for the team. The freshman team composed of Rice, Maloney, Williams and Rawls showed great promise.

That the brand of polo that is being played at A. & M. is improving is evidenced by the favorable recognition that the team has received throughout the state.

FENCING

Fighting this year as a minor sport, the Aggie Fencing Team took long strides upward in representing A. & M. in the fencing world. The Aggie foilsters showed well in all team events and also captured many individual honors in the epee, foil, and sabre matches. Captain T. D. Roberts, coach of the team and heartiest rooter for every fencer, lent his support in every way possible to bring fencing to the front and deserves a lot of credit for the wins of the Aggie group.

In the Southwest Conference meet, the fencers placed second in the team event with Goodstein winning the sabre championship and Larsen taking second in epee. Other wins were marked up over Baylor, Dallas Y.M.C.A., and Fort Worth. Along individual lines, Akarman, dependable and top-ranking fencer for the Aggie team, won the Mid-Atlantic Foil championship. Levine won the Houston award in three weapon fencing, and Everett shone by defeating some of the best known fencers. Goodstein, captain of the team and a polished performer, added the Southwest Conference sabre championship to his credit and also took first place in epee in the Southwestern Fencing League meet. Other members of the team are Clements, Rominger, Baird, Benson, and Franks. All of these men combined their efforts to make this year of fencing a highly successful one.

TUMBLING

Tumbling, a minor sport that doesn't receive outside aid in the form of finances, is a sport from which the participants receive no honors other than the enjoyment they gain from their own efforts. Increasing in popularity each year because of their splendid performances between the halves of home basketball games, the team certainly has gained the respect and admiration of the persons that have seen their exhibitions. Besides the shows that were put on here at A. & M., the team accompanied the basketball team to Austin for a performance in Gregory Gym and also made several other out-of-town appearances.

Included in their performances were feats of strength, skill, agility, and even mirth that reflected clearly the diligent applications that the group had made with regard to training, practice, and planning. For these achievements this group received only the plaudits of the audiences and the least we can do is express our appreciation for their efforts.

This year's tumbling team was headed by Co-Captains J. D. Aughtry and W. R. Davis, who were seniors, and consisted of three seniors, five juniors, four sophomores, and two freshmen. Mr. Penberthy acts as the advisor for the team.

GOLF

Last spring the Aggie Golf Team began its first season with a full time coach and ended the year's play with a very respectable record. The team is again being tutored by Coach Anderson this year and the 1939 season bids fair to equal or better the preceding year's standing. Because of the nature of the sport, golf is played in intercollegiate competition only during the spring, with little chance for outdoor practice before the season starts. Although no actual matches have been played as yet by the A. & M. squad of this year, the members have shown in their qualifying rounds that they have increased in skill and confidence, and with the added experience that most of the members have gained, their play should show even greater improvements.

The veterans returning to the squad include McMahon, Mayhew, and Livingston, all of them masters with the irons and consistent golfers. These men are bolstered and abetted by the rest of the squad which includes Hauser, Gourley, and Richards, themselves capable golfers. These men give the Golf Team a well-rounded squad with which to enter competition for the current season.

RIFLE FIRING

The Rifle Team represents a minor sport of long standing at A. & M. Sponsored by the Military Department, its main purpose is to promote an interest in rifle marksmanship among the students of the school. Membership on the team is open to all students with good scholastic standing who show sufficient interest and ability. The team characteristic has always been a high competitive spirit tempered by the strictest rules of good sportsmanship and the success of the team lies in the high degree of interest and cooperation between the coaches, Major Dyer and Sergeant Richards, and the students comprising the team.

This year's team, following the custom of previous teams, has entered the Eighth Corps Area and the Hearst Trophy matches. Also an important part of their schedule are the weekly challenge matches with other colleges and universities throughout the nation and even foreign lands. The record of wins is always very high for all types of matches and some outstanding scores have been fired by members of the A. & M. team.

The members of the team are:

Aldrich, E. W.
Bird, C. A.
Bullard, R.
Burns, B. H.
Childs, L. F.

DeVilbiss, C. F.
Duncan, G. E.
Friedline, S.
Godwin, V. M.
Guy, W. T.
Hodges, M. B.

Kenagy, J. A.
Krogstad, S. F.
Langdon, W. A.
Lewis, C. A.
Martin, C. C.
Miller, R. I. (Captain)

Murpay, P. L.
Richter, C.
Stellmacher, T.
Wimer, C. J.
Witchell, A. S.

PISTOL FIRING

Pistol shooting at A. & M. has gained in popularity each year since it has been recognized as a minor sport, and again this year the pistol team has a formidable roster. Coordination and control are all-important in this sport and the scores fired by the Aggie team well indicate that the members, working under the direction of Captain Enslow and Sergeant Thompson, have acquired that poise and coordination of mind and body that is indispensable to accurate pistol marksmanship.

As many shoulder-to-shoulder matches as can be conveniently arranged are fired each season and a large number of "postal" and "phoned" matches are held. Outstanding college and university teams throughout the nation are challenged for matches and private pistol teams from this area are also engaged. Some of the schools with whom matches have been held are Michigan State, Cornell, Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College, Virginia Military Institute, Purdue, Colorado State, Yale, Princeton, and the University of Illinois.

Men that have fired consistently high scores all year include Bob and Gene Shiels, Clint Kennemer, William Becker, and C. A. Lewis. Other members that have helped the team go through the season with a near-perfect record of wins are Ashford, Stone, Hendrix, Singleton, Stellmacher, and Jones.

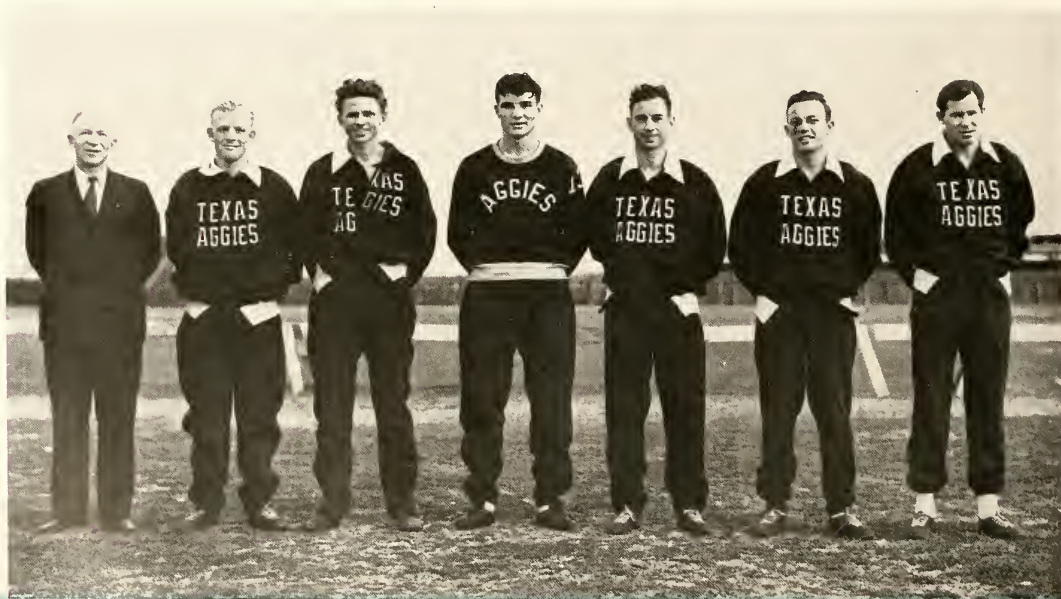

CROSS COUNTRY

To be able to run the rigid course set up for cross country, the boys that take part in this sport have to spend many long hours in conditioning themselves to travel the gruelling distance. Even though the races are not run with the speed of a dash, the meets are always thrilling and the competition never lacks keenness and aggressiveness, thus resulting in hard-fought races and close finishes.

The main team this year was made up of Hogan, the captain, and Hamilton and Hall. Other members of the squad were Stern and Day and all of these men were good cross country performers. The conference meet was held in Austin and the Aggie representatives took second place. Texas, with a veteran crew, led the distance specialists and took enough places to win the affair with a comfortable margin.

Although there is seldom a crowd waiting for the cross country runners when they cross the finish line, the members of the squad and their coach, Frank G. Anderson, have the backing of all the cadets. They should be more highly rewarded for their work, courage and spirit.

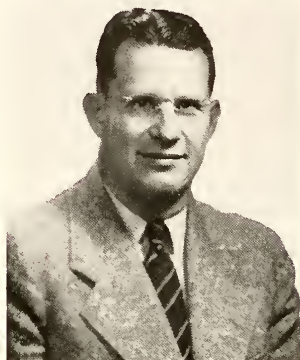

TENNIS

Although the tennis team suffered the loss of two lettermen, the Cadet netters enjoyed a very successful and profitable season under the watchful eye of their newly-appointed coach, Manning Smith. With two lettermen back and with the help of last season's ineligible, Coach Smith was able to build a well-rounded team in both singles and doubles. Captain Wray and Mitchel, the two returning lettermen, showed great improvement over last season's form and should win a large number of matches this year. Denton, who was ineligible last season, added much strength to the team and from his display of consistent form during the early part of the year, he should be another winner for the Aggies. Challenging these men very closely for berths on the team were Adams, Given, and Levine, all of them showing much improvement over their play of last year. This group of netters should round out a balanced team for Coach Smith in his first year as tennis coach.

Included on the schedule were matches with East Texas State Teachers College, Huntsville, T. C. U., S. M. U., Texas University, Baylor, and Rice.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

W. L. PENBERTHY

The task of organizing and directing the intramural program, one of the most complete and satisfactory to be found anywhere, has been efficiently, skillfully, and properly handled by Mr. W. L. Penberthy and his aides, Mr. Hoke and the student intramural and company managers. Too much credit cannot be given these persons for their untiring efforts along this line as their work has benefited and furnished recreation for thousands of A. & M. students. Besides the benefits received in the form of exercise and physical skill, competition in intramural sports affords an excellent opportunity for making acquaintances and does much to keep alive the organization spirit on the A. & M. campus.

The students that have worked as intramural managers with Mr. Penberthy this year and have helped to make the intramural contests enthusiastic and hard-fought are: R. B. Rodgers, T. K. Franke, A. Schlafli, Jr., and W. S. Thomas, all seniors; and I. J. Irvin, P. J. Lemm, J. H. Williams, M. G. Williams, G. W. Tillson, C. W. Whall, E. G. Garrett, M. D. Oliver, and W. W. Downer, all juniors.

Besides these men each organization has its own intramural managers and they too are to be highly commended for their services.

THE School of Veterinary Medicine, with its many classrooms, operating rooms, and laboratories, affords the necessary training that makes the doctors of tomorrow. The buildings and equipment used by the school are modern and well arranged, and their laboratories are among the best from the standpoint of efficiency.

Veterinary Medicine is occupying an increasingly important place each year, and it offers a brilliant future for those who are interested.

The Dallas A. & M. Mothers Club was the first college mothers club organized in the United States. Founded in 1922, it continues to grow in strength and enthusiasm.

The annual luncheon was given to the Freshman Mothers on October 22. Around 200 members were present and 47 Freshmen Mothers were initiated.

On November 5 the club entertained the Cadets (2500 strong) for lunch, on their Corps Trip for the annual gridiron game between the Aggies and S. M. U.

A most successful game tournament in February netted a considerable sum for the Union Building Fund.

The Spring Banquet given by the club to all Dallas County boys at the college is always a huge success for the mothers as well as the boys.

THERE comes a time in each man's life when success or failure depends upon a decision. Probably at no period is this fact more evident than at the time of graduation from college. Four years at A. & M. have meant a great deal to all of us, and because we now possess that "intangible something which drives men on to greater and greater efforts," we should be better prepared to make our decision an intelligent one.

LOOKING FORWARD

PURSUING a progressive program of improvement over the years, the John Deere organization has constantly gone forward in developing and perfecting cost-reducing equipment for farmers in all parts of the world.

Through the lean years as well as in the prosperous years, there has never been a let-down in the efforts of the company's vast engineering staff . . . men working out new ideas . . . developing improved designs in farm machinery . . . craftsmen in laboratory, field, and factory testing again and again, under every conceivable condition, raw materials and finished products . . . making certain that every machine, in every part, measures up to the John Deere standard of quality.

In every step of developing and manufacturing John Deere farm equipment, the dominating influence has always been the century-old principle on which the business was established, a principle which was so aptly expressed by John Deere when he said:

"I will never put my name on an implement that hasn't in it the best that is in me."

THE EXCHANGE STORE OF THE A. & M. COLLEGE
IS THE STORE OF THE CADETS - - -
THE STUDENTS' HEADQUARTERS - - -

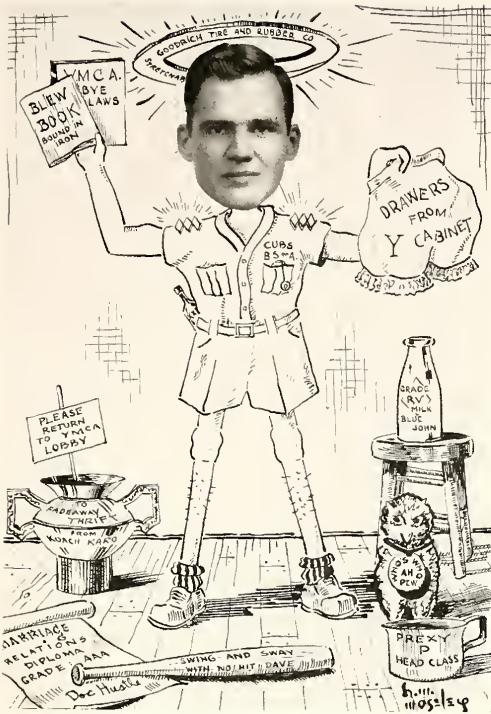

All the books, stationery, and drawing materials that will be needed during the year will be found here. Your regulation uniforms, Stetson hats, Sam Browne belts, shoes, shirts, and in fact everything that is good in the military line, will be found in this store. We also keep in stock the very best lines of underwear, hosiery and toilet articles. This store is not run with the idea of money-making but merely for the convenience of the student body, and goods bought of us are sold as cheaply as possible—just enough being added to pay running expenses.

ALIBI PAGE

I have done my best to give you a representative GREENHORN, and all I can say is that if you get as much pleasure from reading it as I got in compiling it, then the GREENHORN is a big success. The brunt of the load has been put on some of those whom I consider "man enough to take it." If you can't, there is no consolation you can get from the fact that it is too late to do anything about it now.

Greenhorn Editor,

O. D. BUTLER
